Navy Ensign Carl D. Berghult, a captain of the 1963 Lawrence University football team, is the only sailor still missing from the nuclear aircraft carrier Enterprise which was ravaged Tuesday by explosions and fire.

Berghult, 26, husband of the former Jane Dillon, 342 E. Pershing St., Appleton, was one of 17 listed missing following the disaster on the 85,000-ton warship. An air-sea search was called off at sunset Wednesday after 16 crewmen were accounted for.

Naval officials are investigating the cause of the explosions and fire that killed 25 sailors and injured 85 during a training exercise about 75 miles southwest of Honolulu.

Aviation Structural Mechanic 3 C. Dennis E. Marks of Big Bend, near Milwaukee, died in the disaster, and Seaman Apprentice Rodney Jagers of Milwaukee was injured.

Ade Dillon, an Appleton High School-West instructor, said this morning he had received no further word on his son-in-law's fate. Mrs. Dillon flew to San Diego, Calif. Wednesday to be with Mrs. Berghult, Dillon said.

His daughter called Wednesday night and said the Navy would keep in constant contact with her, he said.

Berghult, father of an eight-month-old son, left his home in San Diego about a week ago for his second of three cruises on the Enterprise, Dillon said. He was to return in June.

"One More Cruise" Berghult was an ordnance officer apparently in charge of loading bombs on airplanes. Dillon said. He had enlisted for a five-year hitch and was due for discharge in 1971.

"He had only one more cruise after this," Dillon said.

Berghult, a Chicago native, married Jane Dillon in December, 1964. They both were graduated from Lawrence earlier that year.

He received a bachelor degree in anthropology from Lawrence but was taking graduate credits in business administration while in the Navy, Dillon said. A full-back, Berghult was one of three football captains in his senior year at Lawrence.

Berghult, a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity, was employed at the George Banta Co., Inc., Menasha, before entering the Navy.

Naval officials carried on the cleanup operations aboard the Enterprise today after it was brought into Pearl Harbor.

Adm. John J. Hyland, commander of the Pacific fleet, said he was "confident that we are going to be able to establish exactly what did happen and what caused it."

The explosions and fire put the Enterprise, world's largest combat vessel, out of action until repairs are completed. No official source would guess how long this would take.

Major Economic Problems to Face Nixon, LBJ Warns

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said today in his final Economic Report that he's leaving behind a solid foundation for continued prosperity, but he conceded that his successors will have to deal with major problems in the economy.

The President, in sending his report to Congress, said the United States has experienced an unprecedented period of prosperity in the last eight years, all under Democratic administrations. This has permitted, he said, major investments which should insure continued economic growth for the indefinite future.

To support Johnson's case, the Economic Report listed investments in:

—Industrial plant and equipment, which has grown by nearly a third in five years.

—Manpower, where more than a million persons have acquired skills through government-aided programs.

—Education, which has seen a spectacular increase of 2.2 million in college enrollments since 1963.

Urban centers, which, the President said, are beginning to be restored "as decent places to live."

Johnson said, "The nation is now in its 95th month of continuous economic advance. Both in strength and length, this prosperity is without parallel in our history."

"We have steered clear of the business-cycle recessions which for generations derailed us repeatedly from our path of growth and progress."

But the President saw one flaw in his generally rosy economic analysis—the wage-price spiral which became especially serious in 1968.

He insisted that this was caused in no small part by the failure of Congress to enact the 10 per cent income surtax in January, 1967, when he first asked for it. The bill passed 18 months later.

Congressional critics have said this delay resulted largely

Nixon to Go Into Higher Tax Bracket

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate insured Wednesday that Richard M. Nixon will make $200,000 a year as president instead of $100,000, but it puts him in a higher tax bracket and he'll only get $27,500 more than he would have without the raise.

Nixon's take-home pay will be $78,000 a year.

Table Hassle Settled, Talks to be Resumed

President Delighted At Break

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson hailed today the Paris agreement on the shape of a Vietnam conference table and said that now "new talks of the substance of peace in Southeast Asia can open."

Speaking at an unrelated ceremony in the White House cabinet room, Johnson said that three lessons are to be learned from America's experience since he announced a cessation of the bombing of North Vietnam and renounced another run for the presidency last March 31st.

"First," he said, "we must be clear and firm pursuing with our allies the limited but vital objectives we seek in Southeast Asia."

"Second, we must be patient and face the hard fact that fighting is likely to continue as the negotiations are carried forward."

"Third, we should be confident that an honorable peace is possible if we here at home remain steady."

The President, obviously delighted that the way was opened for actual peace negotiations by a decision to seat the rival delegations at a round table in Paris, went on to say that there have been three crises since the preliminary discussions opened in the French capital nine months ago. He said these were on a place for the talks, on terms for the bombing cessation and on procedures for the new talks.

"In each case," the chief executive said, "patience, firmness and fair-mindedness achieved a satisfactory result."

The agreement reached in Paris today, according to informants here, preserves the U.S.-South Vietnamese position of a two-sided conference but allows the North Vietnamese and National Liberation Front to claim that the meeting is a four-power conference.

The provisions of the deal are:

1. The new negotiating sessions will be held at a round table but the round table will be flanked by two rectangular tables at opposite points and about 18 inches away from the round table.

In the U.S.-South Vietnamese view, these rectangular tables establish a dividing line across the round table, with the U.S. and South Vietnamese delegations sitting on one side and the North Vietnamese and NLF representatives on the other.

2. There are to be no flags or name plates in the conference hall, a provision which avoids special identification of the NLF as if its delegation represented a government instead of a revolutionary force inside South Vietnam.

3. The speaking arrangements will be that each delegation on one side speaks in order and then each delegation on the other.

Diplomats refer to this as the "AA, BB" formula. This means that if the United States speaks first, South Vietnam speaks second and then the two representatives on the other side speak.

Had the agreement not been reached with the North Vietnamese in Paris today, the whole problem of opening the new round of talks would have gone over to the Nixon administration. Now the new President will be in position to move forward on the substance of the talks—such issues as arrangements for troop withdrawal and the future of South Vietnam.

Weeks of Haggling

The use of a round table and nearby rectangular tables called a similar agreement made at the outset of Big Four talks on Germany at Geneva in 1959. Representatives of West Germany and Communist East Germany were invited to attend but not as full participants along with the U.S., Britain, Russia and France.

The main table agreed upon after weeks of haggling was a round table for the four powers, but the Germans were assigned rectangular tables removed from the round table only by a thickness of a pencil.

Spring and Winter seemed to arrive at the same time in the Fox Valley today, as overnight rains and tons of snow combined to clog street drains and put a glaze on all streets. Here, a pair of Appleton Public Works Department workers help the water underground. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Slush Becomes Ice, So Do Valley Roads

Rain and sleet created a giant ice rink of the Fox Valley today, causing a rash of highway accidents and forcing schools to close throughout the four-county area.

And the picture is even getting bleaker. The Weather Bureau predicted a cold front for the state late today, sending temperatures tumbling below the freezing mark and creating more ice on the highways.

Almost an inch of rain fell in the past 24 hours. "The last time we had a storm like this was in January, 1967, when over one inch of rain accompanied by winds reaching 40 miles per hour deluged the Appleton area," a weather official said.

Calumet County Police reported that between 50 and 75 calves were killed when a livestock truck loaded with 170 calves slid off State 57 near Forest Junction Wednesday night, tipping over on its side. Traffic was blocked over two hours.

Several truck drivers were forced to sleep in their cabs in Forest Junction because of the traffic tie-up and slippery roads. Two other semi-trucks went into ditches at Forest Junction and were pulled out by tow vehicles.

Other massive traffic tie-ups occurred at the Little

Chicago intersection of State 55-Outagamie County Trunk KK and at the Outagamie-Brown County line on U.S. 41.

At mid-morning U.S. 41 was wet and slushy and plows were at work. But at that time there still were six trucks and five cars abandoned in the ditch in the stretch between De Pere and Kaukauna.

At one point this morning 14 cars were counted in ditches along County Trunk KK between Appleton and State 55.

Frank Keuler, Appleton director of public works, and Donald Bengs, assistant director, said today utility crews were clearing corners and hauling snow Wednesday night.

The biggest problem, according to Keuler, is clearing the catch basins throughout the city. "We must get the water off the streets, particularly at the intersections," Keuler said. He was concerned the rain might affect property owners at the corners if the inlets remained plugged.

However, the public works director didn't anticipate any problems in clearing the inlets. Bengs noted there isn't enough manpower for general plowing and this could be a problem if the temperatures drop below freezing tonight.

Sanders also will be out through most of the day and tonight spreading salt and salt chips on city streets and in catch basins in hopes of dissolving the ice.

The storm caused several incidents of power outages in the Fox Valley area.

Most serious reports came from the Chilton, New Holstein and Kiel areas. The latter two communities were without electric power as of 10 a.m. today.

According to Public Service Commission authorities, power has been restored in and around the Chilton area, where some residents experienced outages from 4 to 9:15 a.m. today.

Downed wires attributed to freezing rains also were reported in the Bonduel, Seymour, Black Creek and Hilbert areas.

Four Sides Get Together On Saturday

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

PARIS (AP) — The United States and North Vietnam, with the consent of their respective allies, announced today a major breakthrough which will permit the long-stalled Vietnam peace talks to begin Saturday morning.

The American, North Vietnamese and South Vietnamese and National Liberation Front delegations will meet around an unmarked round table at the International Conference Center.

A U. S. spokesman refused to characterize the agreement in any way, or to say whether it represented a concession by the U. S. Saigon side, which had been insistent all along on a marked table which would clearly show that the peace conference was two-sided.

Under terms of the agreement the round table will be flanked on opposite sides by two rectangular tables, each about 18 inches from the main table, for secretaries.

Evidently the agreement was reached with the understanding that the two sides could view the conference in any way they chose, and the Americans and South Vietnamese still stress their view that it will be two-sided.

Procedural Matters The sudden and unexpected breakthrough makes it possible for peace conference machinery to be in motion two days before the expiration of President Johnson's term of office.

But for some time it is expected the enlarged conference will deal with procedural matters before it finally gets down to talking about how to achieve peace in Vietnam.

Obviously, the two-side, four-side disagreement continues but has been shunted aside by common consent.

The North Vietnamese spokesman characterized the coming meeting as four-sided. The Saigon spokesman stressed two sides.

Nguyen Than Le, the North Vietnamese spokesman, said the conference would be made up of four delegations "to reflect the idea that they are equal." South Vietnam has stubbornly resisted the idea that the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front should have a status of equality with the Saigon government.

The first meeting, opening at 10:30 a.m.—3:30 a.m. CST — Saturday will thus be at a round table with four members of each delegation present, a total of 16, plus secretaries as needed.

Vance Represents U.S. The deputy heads of the delegations will be present, since there are still procedural matters to be discussed. Thus, Ambassador Cyrus R. Vance will represent the United States, Col. Ha Van Lau the North Vietnamese, Nguyen Phong, the South Vietnamese and Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, the NLF.

Vance and Lau reached the agreement after two last-minute meetings, one of an hour and a half Wednesday and the other of a half hour this morning.

The shape of the table and speaking arrangements had been at the core of the wrangle which had held up the enlarged talks ever since President Johnson announced the end of the bombing of North Vietnam Oct. 31 and opened the way for a new phase of the conference.

The North Vietnamese spokesman, as if suggesting that the solution was a victory for his side, told newsmen Hanoi had proposed a round table as long ago as Dec. 12, and "the United States and the Saigon administration must bear the entire responsibility for the fact that it has taken to Jan. 18 for the conference to meet."

South Vietnam's spokesman insisted that the accord showed his government's good will.

There will be no flags or emblems in the conference room.

The first session, at least, will be held in private. The North Vietnamese said they wanted the meeting to be public but that the United States objected. The Americans said future meetings might be open to the press.

Cosmonauts Score a First By Transferring Spaceships

MOSCOW (AP) — Two Soviet cosmonauts transferred from one orbiting spaceship to another today, scoring a dramatic first for the Soviet space program.

The two spaceships, Soyuz 4 and Soyuz 5, had linked up in orbit shortly before cosmonauts Yevgeny Khronov and Alexei Yeliseyev made the transfer.

The official news agency Tass said they moved from Soyuz 5 to j in Vladimir Shatalov in Soyuz 4, leaving Boris Volynov alone in Soyuz 5.

Tass said the two spaceships separated after being linked together for 4 hours, 35 minutes.

There was no immediate word on the remainder of the flight program.

Radio Moscow said the two cosmonauts were outside the linked-up ships "about an hour."

Khronov and Yeliseyev donned space suits just before the maneuver. Radio Moscow said the suits were equipped with a new life-support system. "Thus Shatalov's two-day solitude in orbit was over," Tass said.

Khronov exited from Soyuz 5 and climbed aboard the companion ship above the territory of South America. Yeliseyev made his move over the Soviet Union.

"The condition of all cosmonauts is good," Radio Moscow said.

Moscow television showed a delayed videotape of the two cosmonauts inside the orbiting ship preparing to make the transfer. Volynov helped Yeliseyev and Khronov get into their suits.

"Our condition is excellent," Volynov reported.

"Don't be in a hurry," a voice from ground control said.

The picture was of good quality and the inside of the Soyuz 5 cabin appeared to be quite roomy.

One of the cosmonauts could then be seen floating in space, his umbilical cable leading inside the ship.

At one point a movie camera floated out the door into Yeliseyev's arms.

Tass said the maneuver proved the feasibility of exchanging crews on long-term operations or the rescue of spacemen in emergency situations.

The two cosmonauts who made the transfer "carried out a number of scientific experiments and observations," Tass said. It gave no details.

After Yeliseyev and Khronov crawled into Soyuz 4, Tass said, they took off their space suits and occupied their "new working places" alongside Shatalov.

The spaceships "continue the flight in the coupled condition and the program of scientific experiments is being successfully implemented," Tass reported.

Queen's Designer Goes His Own Way

By NADEANE WALKER
LONDON (AP) — Norman Hartnell, Queen Elizabeth's dressmaker, kept things lady-like with a nearly knee-length hemline in his spring '69 collection today. This, he feels, is going quite far enough, for he describes his day length as "still short."

The only model above the knee was one wearing a white evening culotte outfit aptly called "What a Bloomer." The culotte cuffs were lined with cock feathers, which tickled the audience as well as the mannequin.

Hartnell's line is straight and semifitted, or slightly flared and sometimes with box pleated skirts. Like Hardy Amies fashions shown Tuesday, he likes high-level pockets, but Hartnell's are vertical and set in, where Armies' were tabbed patch pockets. Hartnell keeps the waistline high, with some suits and dresses half-belted under the bust. His belts are mostly narrow and never tight.

Navy and bright pink are tops in the Hartnell collection, with some black, white and beige combinations, and he also likes creamy tones. Buttons that look like gunmetal are almost a trademark on the daytime clothes.

Big Brim Hats
Among the hats were big brimmed ones—one was daisy-brimmed—turbans, and a sort of small toque with full-face black veil.
Although his best-known customers, the queen, never wears them, Hartnell gave his blessing to the trouser suit, with a pink, beige and white striped one called "My Wife Wears Them." Jackets were either mid-hip or almost tunic length. There were some plaids, horizontal stripes, and zig-zags, but relatively few prints.

One evening dress that looked just like an old-fashioned Valentine featured little pink flowers on pink lace.

The show was stopped in the late shoe styles by Edward Rayne, rated and with stacked Cuban heels, were especially designed to go with trousers. Major trends were spectator or two-toned shoes, and a return to slimmer, higher heels for wear with dresses.

This reflected, said Rayne, the return to more elegance and femininity in fashion.

Scouts 'Dig' Community Service

When there's a community problem to be solved, chances are the Girl Scouts are in there pitching. Last week they were in there digging — digging out crosswalks and firehydrants from under mounds of snow.

Members of Cadette Troop 9, and their leader Mrs. D. H. Bates, cleared crosswalks and hydrants on Lorraine, Alvin,

State, Walnut and Sixth streets — four walkways and a hydrant to each block. The evaluation of the Challenge of Active Citizenship states that: A Cadette Girl Scout understands that service to others is a vital part of Girl Scouting. The Promise they make, the uniform they wear, badges and insignia, all say, "We are willing and prepared to be of Service."

Young Housewives Leading Demand For Leaner Meat

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Today's young housewife, conscious of calories and cholesterol, is leading the fast-growing consumer trend toward low-fat, tenderized meats.

Sales of leaner, high protein meats will be on the meat industry highlights in 1969, predicts Carl Lavin, president of Sugardale Food, Inc.

"Our market surveys show that young consumers—those in the 25 to 35 year age group—are leading the demand for leaner, more tender, high protein meats," says Mr. Lavin. "These women are heeding health warnings about overweight and cholesterol. And they feel that the slightly

Your Makeup Problem

Almost everybody runs into makeup problems. When you are unable to solve one of the basic difficulties, it's a good bet you'll find the answer below:

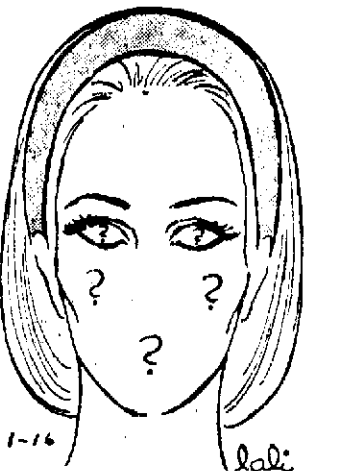

Your powder base streaks or fades? If your skin is oily, a medicated base would help the cause all around. Dry skin wants for a translucent texture. But, whatever your skin type, you should apply a base to a well-cleansed face and avoid heavy coats.

Your powder looks masky? It's higher price for tenderized, low-fat products represent a better nutritional value."

won't if you fluff it on with a clean, long-napped puff and remove residues with quick, downward strokes.

Your lipstick flakes? There are several explanations: 1. Your lips are dry and roughened. The solution is an application of clear, medicated lip gloss under lipstick and at bedtime after cleansing. 2. Your lipstick applications are too thick and you retouch too often. Lipstick should be filmed on and you must cleanse and start afresh after no more than three touch-ups.

Your makeup looks "tired" soon after it's finished? It can be freshened by compressing a cold, damp towel to the face. Or you can fix your cosmetics at makeup time by spraying with "sets" made for the purpose.

(If you have an individual puzzle, write me in care of the Post-Crescent. Please enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope. I'll find the answer and let you know.)

Fifty ways to ideal skin and natural makeup for young adults—ages 13 to 19—are detailed in my booklet, Model Tips for Teens. Advice covers corrective skin care; how to use makeup to accent good points and play down problems; fashion model makeup tricks. For your copy, write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Post-Crescent enclosing 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Designer's message! The gypsy look reported here in the fall (rings on each finger) is still growing. Now many chains and necklaces worn with shirts and as an outdoor table next summer, and I do not wish to have being seen at all the dance spots. More of the dressed up, casual look, but be sure that all the chains and necklaces are very fine and small to give the look of "real" jewelry. The Ailing House Remove Tree Stump With Jeep

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q: Near the edge of my lawn is a large tree stump. What is the easiest way to get rid of it, if any? — Boston.

A: You or somebody chop through all the side roots. Then yank it out with chain and tractor or sturdy Jeep. Fill in with dirt and either seed it or cover with sod. Or hire a man who had a wood chipper and let him reduce the stump to a pile of wood chips. These make a wonderful weed-repelling mulch for any garden, especially around shrubs.

Q: Are there any flooring materials, other than asphalt tiles, which will perform satisfactorily over a concrete slab on grade? — Norfolk.

A: Indeed there are: many vinyls, both in tiles and rolls; some makes of rubber tiles; the indoor-outdoor carpeting; hardwood, both in flooring strips and parquet squares. The best thing for you to do is visit your lumber yard and floor covering dealers and see the wide selection available.

Q: I'm sure the wallpaper on the playroom in the house we just bought is not the washable type. I also realize the best type, where small children are concerned, is either plastic-surfaced or otherwise durable. But is there anything I can do now, until I can repaper? — Washington.

A: If you're worried about crayons, make sure your children have only the new water soluble type. Then spray clear plastic on the wallpaper, at least as high as they can reach. Hope for the best.

Q: I happen to like the rich, warm color of redwood. So I would like to know what finish (rings on each finger) is still will keep this original shade. It is a new table which will serve as an outdoor table next summer, and I do not wish to have it weather to that silver color so many people seem to like. — Grand Rapids.

A: Merely stain it with regular redwood stain, available at any paint store.

Mac Dowell Marks 35th Year

Members of the Appleton Mac Dowell male chorus, their wives and guests gathered Saturday evening for an annual dinner dance at the Columbus Club. The evening began with a cocktail hour and dinner. There was a short concert before dancing until 1 a.m.

Mac Dowell, which was organized 35 years ago, is known throughout the upper Midwest and is one of the largest male choruses. They have performed in cities throughout the United States and Canada with their repertoire which ranges from light to country and sacred to folk.

The chorus is under the direction of Edwin Zordel; accompanist is Bert Lord of Lawrence University. President is Richard Buran.

10-Year-Old May Suffer From Dyslexia

BY ANN LANDERS
DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our middle son, age 10, is an unhappy child. This boy has always done poorly in school and we were at a loss to understand why. The teachers complain that he daydreams in class, doesn't pay attention and misses at least half of what is going on. His grades show it. Last week it came to my attention that the boy cannot read. I was shocked. How he managed to fool everyone is beyond me. His English teacher suggested that he might have dyslexia, which she described as a disorder of the brain that can be corrected. Do you know anything about this? Does this mean my child is retarded? Can you help me?—Newspaper Reader
Dear Reader: Children who have dyslexia are not retarded. In fact, they have normal or above average intelligence. No one is certain what causes this lag in visual and auditory development, but the problem is often discovered because the child has trouble reading. The experts agree dyslexia tends to run in families and could be triggered by a difficult birth or a psychological problem early in life.

I suggest you write to the Executive Director, The Secretary (H.E.W.) National Advisory Committee on Dyslexia & Related Reading Disorders, Room 8A34C, N.I.H. Building 31, Bethesda, Maryland 20814. I recommend this organization with complete confidence because I know something about it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I've been dating this fellow for almost a year. He is really groovy and I dig him the most, so please don't tell me to cut the connection. I couldn't do it. The only thing wrong with Jake is he's a little bit cheap. Whenever we go with another couple, he manages to be away from the table when the check comes, or he is so slow to find his pocket that the other guy gets it.

Lately we've been doubling with my best friend a lot. Yesterday she told me her steady refuses to double with us any more because Jake is such a sponge. I am so embarrassed I could take the gas pipe. How do I tell him?—Boise Blues

Dear Boise: In plain English, and at once, unless he understands another language better.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: We are up to our necks in debt. Bruce is a good person but he loves to gamble and he lies to me constantly. He'll bet on whether or not Thanksgiving falls on a Thursday. Bruce swears he paid the rent and the utility bills and then I get three dunning letters and somebody shows up in person. Last month the power company turned off the gas and electricity.

Twice last year Bruce went to loan companies to keep from getting his wages garnished. My father finally lent us $800 because we were about to lose our car and furniture.

Gambling is as bad a sickness as alcoholism. Please, Ann, tell me what to do. I'm ready to pack and clear out. —No Door

Dear No: Have you ever heard of Gamblers Anonymous? This organization is patterned after A.A. and has helped a great many people. The National Headquarters address is: P.O. Box 17173, Los Angeles, California, or 2847 1/2 Pico Boulevard, Los Angeles, California. Write for literature and good luck to you, honey.

Keep Your Eyes Open For Danger

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

You might think that leaping into the dark is a specialty of the brave or the foolhardy, but you're overlooking the thoughtless. Even tried and tested bridge players have their moments of thoughtlessness, as we see in today's hand, taken from last year's British national team championship.

West opened the king of spades, and East played the discouraging four. West then shifted to the eight of clubs, and South won with the ace.

South returned a spade, and West took the ace. West continued clubs, and South ruffed. Now South "cautiously" ruffed a low spade with dummy's ten of hearts, only to discover that this play gave West two trump tricks instead of only one. Down one.

It's clear that South was worried about a bad spade break, but he should have been fairly sure that the six missing spades were divided 3-3. If East had only two sides he would begin a high-low signal at the first trick; if West had only two, he would have led the ace first instead of the king.

Discovery Play
After knocking out the ace of spades and ruffing the club, return South should lead the king of hearts. If anybody takes the trick, dummy's ten of trumps is an entry to the top diamonds; and South can plan to lead a trump to the ten in order to discard two spades on the ace and king of diamonds.

As the cards lie, South would discover the bad trump break and would then realize that he could not afford to ruff a spade in dummy. He would know that he had to rely on a 3-3 spade break — and he would make his contract.

Isn't it easy to be thoughtful when you're looking at all of the cards?

Daily Question
As dealer, you hold: S-10 6 4, H-None D-Q 10 7, C-K Q 10 9 7 3 2. What do you say?

Answer: Bid three clubs, no matter what the vulnerability is. You have a very strong suit and fine playing strength, but your hand is virtually worthless for defense. An opening shutout bid is called for in this situation.

Enemy Tries To Break Out Of Allied Trap

SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong soldiers attempting to break out of an allied cordon on Blangan Peninsula caught U. S. Marines in an ambush, military spokesmen reported today.

Two Americans were killed and five wounded, the spokesmen said. Enemy casualties in the ambush Wednesday were not known.

With military activity picking up, four more Americans were killed and 16 wounded in the Nang-Quang Ngai City sector. U. S. forces killed 36 enemy soldiers. Two more helicopters were shot down, one an observation craft supporting troops near Quang Ngai City. All three crewmen were killed. The losses raised to 983 the number of American helicopters downed by enemy gunners.

Five U. S. Navy men were killed and five wounded Thursday when their harbor boat hit a mine in the Cua Viet River south of the demilitarized zone's eastern flank, the Navy announced. In a 40-minute fight near An Khe, eight North Vietnamese soldiers and three U. S. paratroopers of the 173rd Airborne Brigade were killed and 11 paratroopers wounded. The paratroopers were riding armored personnel carriers on an offensive sweep.

Battle Toll Rises
The rising scale of military operations was reflected in the U. S. Command weekly casualty report: 151 U. S. battle dead the week ending Jan. 11, compared with 101 in the previous week. The U. S. death toll in the war rose to 30,795, approaching the Korean War high mark of 33,629.

The number of U. S. wounded in the war rose to 194,234, with 548 wounded and hospitalized and 860 wounded but returned to duty last week. Another 1,251 Americans are listed missing, captured or interned.

South Vietnamese troop losses last week were 183 dead and 222 wounded as compared to 150 killed and 602 wounded a week earlier.

The U. S. Command figures put total enemy losses since the war began at 434,048, with 2,102 killed last week compared to 2,056 the previous week.

In another wave of activity, the enemy during the night shelled two provincial capitals, a government training center, a military subsector and two allied battlefields. Six Americans were wounded when the 100-pound rockets slammed into the Pleiku City airfield, destroying two gasoline storage tanks.

The biggest current operation is the cordon being closed around the Batangan Peninsula by an 8,200-man allied force trying to wrest control of the area from the Viet Cong, who use it as a supply point.

Two landing teams of the 26th Marines, two battalions of the U. S. Army's Americal Division and two South Vietnamese battalions form the task force. Navy patrol boats ring the South China Sea area.

Upwards of 800 Viet Cong soldiers may be inside the cordon, along with scores of sympathizers among the 5,000 to 10,000 civilian population.

The Navy said American casualties so far were four killed and 17 wounded since the operation began Monday with Marine landings. Ten Viet Cong soldiers have been reported killed by ground troops.

Seventh Fleet ships supporting the ground troops fired on 22 fortifications Wednesday. Spotters reported that 10 more enemy soldiers were killed and 15 fortifications destroyed.

Earth Orbits Successful Soviets Still Trail U.S. in Moon Race

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — By successfully linking two manned spaceships and transferring two crewmen, the Soviet Union has demonstrated it can assemble space stations for operations in Earth orbit. But if they plan to beat Americans to a moon landing, the Russians will have to do much more. Technical details of exactly how Russia plans to land cosmonauts on the lunar surface and return them to Earth remain cloaked in secrecy. But knowledgeable western observers who specialize in assessing the Soviet space program generally believe cosmonauts don't have a chance of making it before 1970.

The United States, meanwhile, is expected to place its Apollo 11 astronauts on the lunar surface in mid-July of this year.

Unlike the U.S. program, which has Saturn 5 rockets powerful enough to propel men moonward with a single launch, the Soviets will require perhaps five or six difference launches to assemble in Earth orbit the rockets, spacecraft and fuel supplies needed for a lunar landing, knowledgeable observers believe.

In addition, recent remarks by cosmonauts and Soviet officials after the Soyuz 3 flight by Col. Georgy Beregovoy last October indicate Soyuz craft cannot take heat and pressure buildups of a 25,000-mile-an-hour re-entry encountered by space-ships returning to Earth from the vicinity of the moon.

Soyuz craft can only re-enter at Earth orbital speeds of 17,500 miles an hour, the Soviets indicated.

If so, this means a flight to the moon using Soyuz would require firing from the lunar surface into Earth orbit first, then re-entering the atmosphere—an extremely difficult sequence which Russia has not yet proven it can accomplish.

One alternative is to develop an improved spaceship. The unmanned Zond 5 and 6 flights last September and November which flew around the moon's backside and returned to Earth without going into lunar orbit were considered to be development flights leading to this type craft.

Russia has also not flown any mission yet, manned or unmanned, where it demonstrated a craft capable of landing on the moon itself then blasting off again for Earth.

Soviet officials have left no doubt in statements that the Soyuz series is aimed at construction of manned orbiting platforms. If Soyuz 1 succeeded in 1967 instead of ending in the death of a cosmonaut, they would have long since constructed and operated one.

Besides serving as a base to assemble equipment for manned lunar takeoffs, a space station in Earth orbit is useful for military reconnaissance and to put together complex unmanned probes aimed at the planets.

President Nixon will see the

Republicans Doubt There'll be a Surplus

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans in Congress are complaining that the $195.3 billion spending budget submitted to Congress by President Johnson will produce a deficit instead of the surplus that Johnson claimed.

Democrats, meanwhile, indicated they will wait to see President-elect Nixon's legislative program before they act to put Johnson's proposals for full funding of welfare programs into effect.

Senate Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said his fellow Republicans are waiting to "get the figuring straight" before pouncing on Johnson's contention that his budget would give Nixon $3.4 billion surplus in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Main Objection
But Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, a new member of the Senate Finance Committee, pinpointed the GOP's main objection. He said Johnson had counted as revenue surpluses being piled up in trust fund accounts for future Social Security and medical care benefits.

"What really counts," Miller said, "is the regular operating accounts. If deficits occur in these, they must be covered by increased federal borrowing—the root cause of the inflation that has been sweeping the country."

"This is a deceptive budget," Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., a Senate Armed Services Committee member, said the course of the Vietnam war will have a heavy influence on the ability of the new administration to operate in the black.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., said Johnson had taken "a courageous course" in recommending increased welfare spending, and "I hope that President Nixon will see the need for continuing programs to meet our domestic problems."

Kennedy, assistant Senate Democratic leader, and a possible candidate for his party's 1972 presidential nomination, said he thinks most Democrats will want to see Nixon's program before drafting any alternative proposals.

"The responsibility lies with the President-elect to suggest action in a variety of fields," he said. "Hopefully there will be an early meeting of the Democratic Policy Committee to identify the areas in which the party ought to move to meet the needs."

"I am sure we will want to develop our own priorities but we must wait to see what Mr. Nixon proposes."

Seats for Inaugural Parade Monday Cost Protesters $1,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam purchased 100 grandstand seats Wednesday for Monday's Inaugural Parade.

The seats cost the protest group $1,000.

Ronnie Davis, mobilization national coordinator, said the tickets were purchased on the parade route as part of its planned "peace presence" during the weekend inaugural ceremonies.

Davis said anti-war protesters also will stand in public areas along the parade route, principally near the two sites for which tickets were purchased.

U. S. Cupboards Overflowing With Uranium Products

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government said Wednesday its cupboard is overflowing with uranium and it would like the uranium industry to ease up on deliveries for awhile.

The Atomic Energy Commission said it is seeking proposals to limit total deliveries of uranium concentrates from companies now under contract.

Declaring such a reduction would save the government money, the AEC said:

"The commission believes that a moderate reduction in deliveries can be achieved on terms which would be mutually advantageous to the contractors and the government."

The AEC said its commitment to purchase uranium under the contracts—which terminate Dec. 31, 1970—exceeds its present needs, "largely because of previous cutbacks in military requirements for fissionable materials."

School Executive Reveals How to Quickly Prepare for Rewarding, Well-paid Positions!

"Whether you are in your late teens or late forties, you can step into your choice of many different, important and well-paying positions in the booming Drafting and Electronics fields," says Martin H. Carneol, Vice President of United Technical Institute, Milwaukee, Wisconsin. Exciting facts about the opportunities in these fields are presented in a new 28-page booklet, now available FREE to those seriously interested in bettering themselves and earning more money. "We published this interesting book," explains Mr. Carneol, "to show how easily and quickly an ambitious man or woman can prepare him or herself for a lifetime of security with unlimited advancement as a Draftsman or Electronics Technician working with engineers, scientists, architects, and top notch designers."

"It's remarkable," Carneol goes on, "just how many women and young girls just out of high school are becoming interested in these careers... particularly drafting. And why not?... it's artistic, requires patience and attention to detail and, above all, it's clean work."

The booklet also tells how — with the help of UTI's nationwide placement assistance — people of all ages are finding openings in major corporations all over the U.S.

Ice Puts Trucks, Cars Into Ditches

Numerous cars and trucks remain in roadside ditches today as a result of the freezing rain that glazed roads and streets throughout the Fox Cities Wednesday night.

The Wisconsin State Patrol urged motorists to drive only in case of an emergency as reports indicate that all major thoroughfares are slippery.

U.S. 41 is said to be extremely hazardous, especially in the passing lane, and all secondary roads are virtually impassable.

A United Parcel semi-truck and two semi-trailer trucks were involved in an accident in the Town of Wednesday about 11:30 p.m. Wednesday, resulting in $4,000 damage. The Winnebago County Sheriff's Department reported that the trucks, approaching in opposite directions, slid into each other. There

COG Invited to Join State Law Enforcement Program

The Fox Valley Council of Governments (COG) was asked Wednesday to participate in the federally-supported statewide program to fight crime in Wisconsin.

COG was offered part of the $382,150 the state received this week to lend its assistance in formulating a statewide comprehensive law enforcement program.

Under the program, COG would be funded 100 per cent to establish technical advisory committees of law enforcement and other legal personnel and hire professional planners to come up with a long range program and priority list of law enforcement needs of its member communities.

Robert Walker, project director of the governor's commission on law enforcement and crime, told COG policy committee that COG would like a general list of proposed improvements by mid-April and a detailed long-range plan by Aug. 31 to meet federal deadlines.

Improvement Programs On the basis of these plans and the statewide plan, communities can apply for partial federal funding for individual law enforcement improvement programs. Walter said that most enforcement projects would be funded 60 per cent federal and 40 per cent local. These include recruiting, public education and training programs.

The proposal gained unanimous endorsement from the COG policy committee. COG officials will be presented the recommendation in February.

Walter said that problems in traffic, training, drug control, courts, correction and prosecution, community organization and all other enforcement areas should be included.

Federal Money The planning money comes from the U.S. Department of Justice under the Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968. Similar grants should be made available each year to allow a continual planning effort.

Communities should determine a general priority list by mid-April and then apply through COG and the state for funds for their particular need. He said any request which will improve local law enforcement will receive strong consideration.

Action Grants Action grants also will include 50 per cent federal funding of construction projects; 75 per cent for fighting organized crime or riots; and 60 per cent for others. He said construction should be low on priority lists because of slim chances for approval but told committee members not to put it out if it's badly needed.

He estimated that up to $2.5 million will be available for action programs in Wisconsin in fiscal 1970, with 75 per cent to be used by local units of government.

In its endorsement, the COG policy committee agreed two advisory committees of area police and other legal personnel should be the first step. While the local units of government formulate plans at their levels, the state plan will deal with statewide law enforcement.

Control Board Critical School Repairs Bond Request Rejected

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The fiscal control board — outspokenly apprehensive and critical — refused Wednesday night to grant an Appleton Board of Education request for a $104,294 long term bond appropriation to add to its 1969 budget.

The list of items for which the school board said it needed the money was attacked and narrowed down to about $35,000 worth after a thorough review by the city finance director and fiscal board members.

Earlier the fiscal board pointed out that it granted the board of education a $7.9 million budget to operate the schools this year.

Fear Precedent The majority of aldermen and town chairmen comprising the fiscal board feared any appropriation now would be precedent-setting, and lead to the same thing annually shortly after the budgets have been completed. Kenneth Sager, school board vice president, spoke briefly at the outset of the special fiscal control board meeting called by Mayor George Buckley at the request of the board of education.

Sager said that actually money was appropriated this year for equipment and supplies was less than received by the school board in 1968.

Capital Outlay The matter before you tonight is financing capital outlay items," Sager explained. "All need not be done tomorrow and adequate street facilities can wait until this summer schools.

He also stressed need for an $18,000 roofing project at Wilson Junior High School, reporting it was leaking seriously this week. He explained why the school board wants to buy a $9,000 accounting machine for payroll and other purposes, claiming the equipment is urgently needed. Sager said the board also investigated the cost of leasing which proved to be expensive.

Ald. John Steidl (18th) said he could not go for bonding for items with seven to eight years lifetime. General obligation bonds are usually for 20 years. Interest rates currently are high.

Machine Obsolescence And a warning that a new accounting machine would be "almost obsolete and have little trade-in value after two to three years" was voiced by Ald. William Wachtendonk (4th), an accountant.

Focus on Negro Students To be Asked at Lawrence

The Lawrence University faculty will be asked to provide individualized counseling to Negro students and President Curtis Tarr will be asked to appoint an ad hoc committee to study aspects of life at Lawrence University which concerns Negro students.

Both actions were initiated by members of the faculty and will be presented at a faculty meeting for consideration Jan. 24.

Lawrence University has between 20 and 25 Negro students enrolled.

Letter to Faculty A letter and statement to the university faculty this week, signed by 21 teachers and administrators, asked the faculty members to approve an interim program of special advisers to help black students at no extra salary.

The proposed ad hoc committee would study university admission policy, curriculum, extra-curricular concerns, academic discipline and other aspects of university life.

Marshall Hulbert, university vice president, said the proposal was initiated by members of the faculty meeting informally during the Christmas vacation.

Insufficient Background He said experience of black students at Lawrence has indicated many of them have had an insufficient academic background. He said they want to provide the black student with a better chance to succeed. "We want the faculty to commit itself," Hulbert said.

He added that none of the proposals imply preferential grading for black students, but would emphasize such things as learning how to study.

Hulbert indicated the ad hoc committee's concern with curriculum would not be in the area of black-related courses. He said this is already being studied by a committee that is evaluating the entire university curriculum.

OSU Situation He also said the situation at Oshkosh State University was not a precipitating factor in the faculty's action since there are relatively few black students at Lawrence.

In the letter to the faculty, the signers noted that many of the black students have been "subject to academic discipline," "some of them have had serious social problems in a white college located in a white community," others believe that "Lawrence is admitting them only to present a respectable facade."

The statement the faculty will be asked to approve states, "The members of the faculty and administration of Lawrence University commit themselves to the education of black students in America... We express our desire to create an academic and social atmosphere in which black students may grow. We also express our willingness to help them acquire skills and knowledge necessary for life in an urban, technological society."

Maintaining Standards While stressing that academic standards will be maintained, the statement continues that "we express... our willingness to go beyond our normal program or to make adjustments in it so that a black student at Lawrence may learn to live in this white community, make up academic deficiencies and develop his intellectual powers."

The proposed ad hoc committee would be asked to make recommendations "no later than the end of the current term."

Members signing the request included Hulbert; Kenneth Venderbush, dean of men; Mary Morton, dean of women; Dorothy Draheim, registrar; Richard Canterbury, director of admission; Lorna Blake, assistant director of admission; Nina Kirkpatrick, assistant dean of women;

Gervais Reed, adviser to the African-American student organization; Edward Moody, Hugo Martines, Graydon Ekdahl; Donald Boya, William Schutte, Harold Schneider, Robert Rosenberg, Thomas Wenzlau, Kenneth Sager, Peter Fritzell, Richard Yatzack, Michael Hittle and Gilbert Shibley.

The petition was not distributed among all faculty members and signers indicated there was no attempt to get all of the faculty to sign the document.

Program Improvement

$200,000 Fund Drive Approved for Xavier

A $200,000 fund drive to improve educational programs at Xavier High School has been approved by the Most Rev. Aloysius Wycislo, bishop of Green Bay, and this week received the approval of the Xavier Board of Education.

The fund drive was one of the major requirements set down by the Christian Brothers if they are to remain as teachers at Xavier. The brothers were to be withdrawn from Xavier at the end of this school year.

A firm commitment to retain the seven presently at the school, at least for another school year, was made in December by the order's council, but no promise was made for the 1970-71 school year.

Seeking Accreditation According to the council, a longer stay hinged on whether the Order's Province of the Wisconsin had sufficient personnel to staff the school and whether Appleton Catholics respond to a $200,000 drive to upgrade educational standards which would help them get accreditation from the North Central Association.

With the bishop's permission to proceed with the drive, the Xavier board now will meet with the Xavier Parents' Club, which has consented to conduct the drive.

According to James Kwitek, president of the parents' group, the next step will be to organize an improvement fund committee and meet with the board to decide on the course of action. No date has been set for the meetings.

Brothers Withdrawn The initial teacher shakeup came last year when the Christian Brothers announced their service at Xavier would be phased out over a three-year period. Four brothers were withdrawn this school year and three more were to leave at the end of this year.

According to Brother Paul Ostendorf, Xavier principal, one of the reasons for the withdrawal is the lack of vocations. The order has no novitiate class this year and has lost about 40 brothers in the past two years.

The policy of the brothers has been to maintain a ratio of one brother to 50 boys in each of their schools. No boy in the school exceeds one to 80 and, in some cases, it is higher. Brother Ostendorf said.

Another problem faced by Xavier at present is a $400,000 debt on the building. Only the four original parishes involved in the decision to construct the school are responsible for the debt.

The $200,000 goal, however, is not meant for paying off the debt on the building, but to improve the school's curriculum and facilities.

Basically, in order to get accreditation, the school would need to improve its library, facilities and add team-teaching areas.

Improvements would include a furnished art room, a library, large group learning and study areas, flexible seating in classrooms, sufficient activity and storage area for physical education and rooms equipped for audio-visual presentation," it was stated in the letter to the bishop, asking him permission for the drive.

City Eyes Present Site Of Post Office

Federal Government Told of Downtown Development Plan

The federal government will be informed that the City of Appleton is interested in development of the present downtown post office site once a new post office has been constructed.

The city council Wednesday night authorized Mayor George Buckley to notify the federal General Services Administration (GSA) that the city has a plan for the site.

The present post office occupies a large area at the southwest corner of Washington and Superior streets, less than a block north of College Avenue in the central business district.

Ald. John Ayers (12th) influenced the council near the close of its regular meeting to suspend rules and have the mayor send GSA the letter as soon as possible.

Citizens Interested The action was apparently recommended by a group of citizens who met with a GAS representative at the Area Chamber of Commerce office Wednesday morning and discussed possible future use of the post office building.

There are two major stores — J. C. Penney and Sears — located on College Avenue with the back of their buildings separated from the post office property by an alley.

Ayers said the two stores reportedly are talking expansion, indicating that the post office property if abandoned by the GSA would be ideal.

Reports have been circulating that the GSA may remodel the building for federal offices, or sell it.

City officials and business leaders in the community are hopeful the federal government will decide to erect a federal building here in the proposed areas.

Improvements would include a furnished art room, a library, large group learning and study areas, flexible seating in classrooms, sufficient activity and

Inspection Ordered School Board Under Attack for Not Fixing Leaky Roof at Wilson

The Appleton Board of Education Wednesday night for allowing the Wilson Junior High School roof to deteriorate, causing a flood of water and complaints.

Control members of the fiscal and city Director of Inspections Charles Magnette was ordered to make an immediate inspection of the Wilson School.

The action came on the motion of Ald. Ralph Gertsch (19th), in whose ward the school system said the roof is located.

Earlier in urging the approval of the bonding request, Kenneth Sager, vice president of the board of education, said water how long the roof project had been deferred by the school board. Sager replied it had been off for three or four years.

Urges Immediate Repair William Knuth, public schools' business manager, asserted the roof was "in terrible shape" and said it should be repaired immediately and not wait for another bond issue to be floated later in the year to renovate and put a major renovation to the building.

Support of Schools William Spears said buckets were being set on the library roof to catch the water, and the leaking was also causing a plaster problem.

Asked by Roland Kampan, other items in requesting a Town of Menasha chairman,

Steak House Being Planned In Neenah

NEENAH — Final plans are being made to build a $300,000 Black Angus Steak Ranch in the southwest section of Neenah, scheduled to open by spring.

Carl Muller, LaCrosse, president of Black Angus Steak Ranch of America Inc., said today that ground will be broken as soon as financing is arranged.

Mid-Valley Builders Ltd., Neenah, is handling the construction and financing of the franchised steak house.

Banquet Facilities Pat Schiller, in charge of financing for Mid-Valley, explained that the restaurant would have a seating capacity of about 175 with banquet facilities for 200 and a bar large enough to hold 50 persons.

Neenah will be the eighth franchised facility of Black Angus. Other restaurants are located in Rochester, Hampton and Austin, Minnesota; Waterloo, Iowa; and Barrington, Kan-kakee and Rockford, Illinois.

Four in Operation Of these, four have already opened and the other four, including Neenah, are planned or under construction and are expected to open soon.

Mid-Valley Builders has been taking care of construction of the Black Angus restaurants in other Midwestern areas and has been able to put together a package in Neenah to accommodate the supper club.

A Mid-Valley representative explained that the operation will be locally-owned and operated but added that since the final details of financing have not been made the local person or persons involved are not being announced.

Police Station Sale

Gimbels Nearly Delayed

Relocation of the Appleton Police Department and possible start of the Gimbels department store came within a motion of being delayed Wednesday night during a long meeting of the city council.

However, after a dispute over building appraisals was apparently resolved — the council voted to sell the existing police station to the Appleton Industrial Development Corp. for $89,000 and to purchase the Automotive Supply building for $80,000.

Independent Appraisals The police department has to vacate its present quarters by March 15 to make way for the development group obtained appraisals and the city asked Assessor John Pierre his opinion of them.

Pierre, who addressed the council Wednesday, said he did not make an appraisal of the police station building but felt the appraisals were in line.

Mayor's Promise Schwarzbauer claimed the mayor earlier told him the city would have two appraisals made on its own, and he (Buckley) had not kept his word. He said the Board of Realtors should have been contacted.

Girl's Kidney Fund Now Totals $2,243

KAUKAUNA — Contributions to the Mary De Coster Kidney Fund have reached a total of $2,243, according to Sister Shirley, fund drive chairman.

Money is being raised by a group of interested adults and school children to help Miss De Coster, a sixth grade student scheduled to undergo a kidney transplant at Madison this summer.

The latest event, a double header basketball game between four grade school basketball teams, netted $245 for the fund.

Do you realize that by referring this matter back it will be holding up a multi-million dollar development for our city?" Buckley asked Schwarzbauer point-blank.

Schwarzbauer then changed his mind and withdrew the referral request, thus clearing the way for the council to approve selling the police station at Morrison and Washington streets. The vote was 17-3.

Chicago Man Injured In Fall Down Steps W R Gilmore, 71, Chicago, was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital by the fire department rescue squad about 7:25 p.m. Wednesday after he was injured in a fall down five steps at the Conway Motor Hotel.

Gilmore, a hotel guest, suffered a large puncture wound to the left side of his forehead, a left wrist fracture, and a possible concussion. Appleton police said the man was in a "semi-dazed" condition after the fall.

Criminal Reporting Methods Proposed by Bar-Media Committee

MADISON (AP) — A joint committee of Wisconsin news media and the state bar announced today recommended guidelines for reporting proceedings involving criminal cases and local ordinance violations.

The guidelines supplement a previously announced statement of principles intended to assure that lawyers, the news media and law enforcement officials recognize both the constitutional rights of individuals to public trial from free prejudicial publicity, and free speech and free press.

The joint committee's statement and guidelines will be submitted for adoption to the state associations of lawyers, district attorneys, sheriffs, police, professional journalism societies and educators, broadcasters, and community and daily newspapers.

Local Firm Low Bidder on I-90 Project

Lee H. Parker Construction Inc., Appleton, was apparent low bidder this week on a $1.8 million base course and concrete pavement project on Interstate 90 in La Crosse County.

Parker was one of seven bidders for the 7½-mile stretch and among about 20 firms that won contracts for state road construction projects totaling about $8 million.

The State Transportation Department's division of highways let 18 contracts, including three for the 4½-mile stretch of I-90 between Tomah and La Crosse. Three other bids for that stretch will be let later this year.

Parker's project is scheduled to be completed in October, when the stretch is expected to be open. The Appleton firm was second low bidder on two other stretches on I-90 which totaled $3.6 million.

The projects let include grading out a shower of cold spray. Public works department crews were kept busy clearing sewer catch basins in an effort to alleviate the flooding.

Doctor Testifies Condition of Shooting Victim Is Described

OSHKOSH — Dist. Atty. Thomas Fink called Dr. John J. McGloin as the prosecution's fifth witness in the second day of the trial of John Konitzer, 28, Menasha, who is being tried in Circuit Court for attempted murder of his wife.

Dr. McGloin, Neenah physician who attended Peggy Konitzer Aug. 1 in Theda Clark Memorial Hospital's emergency room, testified this morning that the patient was suffering from shock, a broken right arm fractured by metallic fragments, a compound skull fracture and four flesh wounds on her head.

When asked by Fink why he had administered plasma to Mrs. Konitzer instead of whole blood, Dr. McGloin answered be some construction funds on deposit to cover the remaining items," Champion said.

Ald. Orville Strutz (17th) spoke in favor of granting the school board more funds, declaring that when the city needed things it was quick to bond. "There are a lot of things here (school items) that have been put off and something should be done about it," he said.

"I agree," said Ald. Glenn Thompson (13th), who thought the entire matter should be referred back to study and compromise figures. Ald. William Errington (15th) said he leaned toward that line of thought also.

The sharpest warning on municipal fiscal matters was sounded by Ald. John Ayers (12th). He said it had been a rough year for the city council and school board, and because of the tax situation budgets had to be cut.

"It is my feeling there may be cut."

funds, and if it runs short later in the year, to make a request for additional monies to the fiscal board.

Mayor George Buckley said there should be no delay in getting a complete report and immediate recommendations on Wilson School roof repair, and directed that Magnette give a copy of his findings to Superintendent Spears "as soon as possible."

Magnette was at the school checking roof and other conditions this morning.

In other matters, the fiscal board and city council:

—Took no action on October and December requests of the school board for a special allocation to cover a reported $25,000 operating deficit for 1968.

Request Tabled

—Tabled a request of the board of education for 12 acres of land east of Appleton High School-East for playground purposes. Public Works Director Frank Keuler reported the cost, including special assessments, would add up to $63,259. The matter will be considered at a later date after fiscal board members study Keuler's report.

—Ordered the city attorney to commence immediate condemnation proceedings on land near Einstein Junior High, owned by Percy Menning, which the school board wants for a future elementary school. City officials said Menning had rejected the top appraisal price it received on the property.

—Set Jan. 29 at 7:30 p.m. for a special council meeting to take final action on a proposed fair (open) housing ordinance for Appleton.

—Granted the request of Walter Michiels to have 90 days in which to dispose of his interests in The Embers, a College Avenue night spot.

Rogers Wants State Annual Budget System

Assemblyman William J. Rogers, (D-Kaukauna) this week called for the discontinuation of the state's traditional two-year budget system and its replacement with a more modern system of annual budgeting.

Rogers, who was recently elected chairman of the Democratic caucus, said he would join with other Democratic leaders in recommending that the Democratic caucus oppose any two-year budget for the 1969 biennium.

Rogers continued, "the fact now becomes shockingly clear to the people of the state that the so-called, 'no Tax Increase Budget' of the Republican Party was nothing more than political oratory!"

The fact remains, he added, that this State faces the largest deficit in Wisconsin history and it will go far beyond the $26

Independent Investor Having His Problems

BY SYLVIA PORTER

Let's say that the cynics of Wall Street are right and you, the independent investor, have a dim and diminishing chance of winning against the professionals who manage the giant institutional portfolios in today's income or balance between the two or maximum capital gains. The performance record of load funds will be quoted under "bid" the no-load funds compares favorably with that of the load funds and why not? An investment record is related to the skills of the management, not the size of the sales charge! Of the top five fund performers in the nine months ended Sept. 30, there were no-loads. —There's no secret about the no-loads. You can find their quotes along with the quotes on the load funds in the financial pages. You will recognize the no-load funds because the same price will be quoted under "bid" and "asked." On the load funds, the sales charge will be reflected in a high "asked" price. —You can get the same services on no-loads as on loads: systematic purchasing plans, withdrawal plans, insurance plans, etc. You can sell them easily simply by telling the fund's home office you want to redeem your shares. (Only a few have a redemption charge.) The tax status is the same in both cases and so are the SEC regulations. You well may decide that a specific load fund is right for you and thus you'll ignore the sales charge. So be it: over the long-term, you'll probably come out way ahead. But since this could be your major investment medium for now and the future, surely you should go over the whole field. Maybe you'll then conclude you would much rather "buy" a no-load than be "sold" a load. (All Rights Reserved) stock market. Let's say that the only way you can be relatively sure of making a profit over the long-term is to put your money in the institutional pool, so that the professionals will manage your funds too.

Let's say, in short, that your basic investment answer—in a period when the little fellow is either being snubbed by many brokerage firms or flatly told he's not wanted—is to buy mutual fund shares.

Modern history is on your side if you say this. The assets of the more than 300 mutual funds in existence today are on their way to $55 billion against a couple of billions less than 20 years ago. The number of shareholders is on the way to 10 million against a mere few hundred thousands in the early '50s.

What's more, mutual funds now are owned by very big as well as little investors, by other types of institutions as well as individuals. A large percentage of the funds consistently outperforms all the familiar averages. More than 50 funds did at least twice as well as the New York Stock Exchange average last year and a respectable number dwarfed this average.

The Alternatives

Okay, it has been said. What, then, are your alternatives?

You can buy one or more of the "load" funds on the market today. These are vigorously sold by an army of salesmen through elaborate distribution systems and, because of this, you will pay a sales commission (load charge) on the shares ranging as high as 9½ per cent over the net asset value. The hundreds of load funds on the market cover the widest range of investment goals, management skills and performance records. If you choose to do this, you will find a fund which meets your needs and you will join close to 9 million others who own load funds with assets above $50 billion.

Or you can join the minority and seek out a "no-load" fund which meets your objective. A much smaller number of these is available and since they have no sales distribution system and charge no sales commission (no-load), you must seek out and "buy" this type of fund. My husband and I have had a substantial percentage of our nestegg in no-load mutual fund shares for years, and while other funds have chalked up more sensational performance records, we have no complaints whatsoever.

Why do I favor the no-load funds? Because:

Performances Good

—You have as wide a variety as you need from which to choose. Although there are only 60 no-loads—$3.5 billion of assets and 475,000 shareholders—this fraction of the industry also covers the range of objectives, management skills, performance records. You can find a fund to meet your goals among the 60: whether it is growth or

Milwaukee Police Confiscate 'Largest' Marijuana Shipment

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Police raided a North Side home Tuesday and confiscated "the largest mail order shipment of marijuana ever discovered in the area."

They said they netted enough marijuana for 70,000 cigarettes in addition to several pipes and a cigarette-rolling machine.

Authorities estimated the confiscated material would bring about $35,000 on the illegal drug market. Three persons were arrested.

'Crazybone'—Identify Objects By Touching Only With Elbow

How highly developed is your elbow's sense of touch? A game called "Crazybone" will let you find out. The idea is to see how many objects each player can correctly identify when he touches them only with his elbow.

Gather a lot of things which feel different to the touch. Typical articles are in figure 1—an eraser, a ring, a coin, a pencil, a wire spring, a piece of sandpaper, a grape, a bobby pin and so on. Let no person in the game see them in advance.

Ask each player to roll up one sleeve. Passing behind the players, hold one of the objects against the elbow of the first player, then of the second player and so on until all have had a chance to touch and describe it. Each player is allowed only one word of description, saying it is round (figure 2), sharp, cold, small, slippery, square, fluffy, etc.

When you have placed the object against everyone's elbow, go back to the first player and, in the same rotation, let them

Why Buy an Elephant? It Is Cheaper to Rent

DETROIT (AP)—Why own elephants when they're so much cheaper to rent?

That's why Shara and Sukie, pachyderms-in-residence at the Belle Isle branch of the Detroit Zoo, are being moved to the main zoo at Royal Oak.

They will be replaced during the summer months, when the school kids are on holiday and anxious to disperse peanuts, by a baby elephant rented for $1,000.

The saving will include a total of $15,000 a year in wages for elephant keepers.

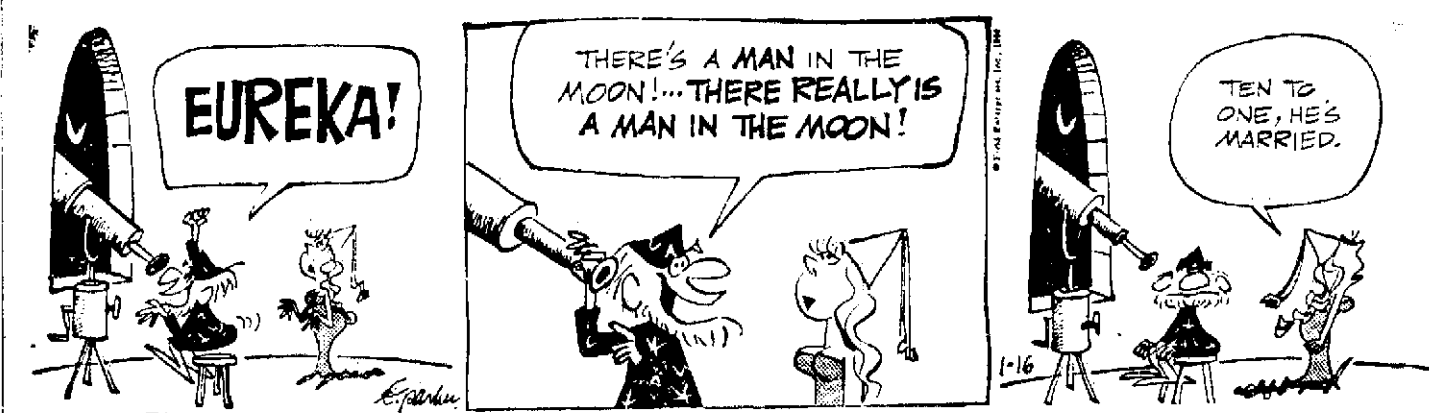

Democrats Get Vote But Republicans Win

NAPES, Fla. (AP)—Collier County voters elected a Democratic county commission, sheriff and county judge in November, but they're getting Republicans instead.

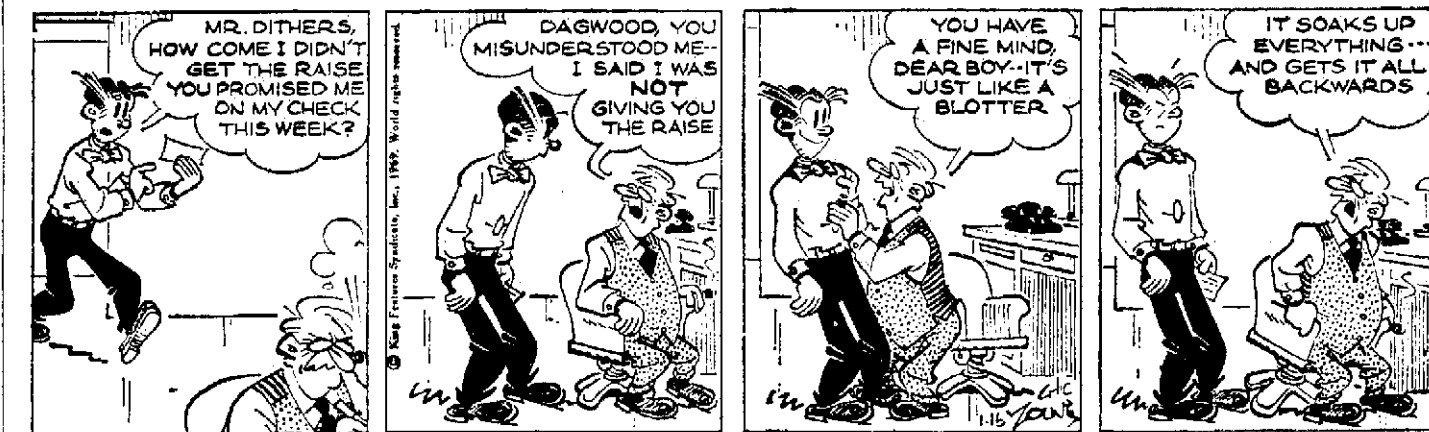

Sheriff E. A. "Doug" Hendry and County Judge Dick Stanley changed their party affiliation to GOP this week. Commission Chairman Les Whitaker shifted to the GOP several weeks ago, giving Republicans the majority vote on the board.

3 Hollywood Directors Discuss Multi-Images

Technique Useful in Creating Moods, Builds Excitement in Story Structure

BY NORMAN GOLDSTEIN
Written for The Associated Press
NEW YORK (AP) — In a recent special section in "Action," the magazine of the Directors Guild of America, three top Hollywood directors discussed the use of the multi-image in their films. All three — Richard Fleischer, who did "The Boston Strangler," Norman Jewison, a Canadian who directed "The Thomas Crown Affair," and Ralph Nelson, of "Charley" — noted the influence of "A Place to Stand."

Fleischer recalls a similar technique used by the Czechs in 1962, in a production of "Laterna Magika" — magic lantern.

"The Czechs were using a combination of photography and live actors, who walked among the screens and sometimes walked in and out of them, talking to their own images," he writes in "Action." He tried to use the multi-image screen in one of his own pictures, but couldn't sell anyone on it — until he conceived 20th-Century Fox studios for the "The Boston Strangler" — "thanks to its use at Expo '67."

Jewison, too, became intrigued with the multi-image screen after seeing it at Expo and Nelson says his use of the technique is "obviously derivative" of Expo '67.

Advantages Noted
What advantages do they find in the use of the multi-image screen?

Fleischer: "The multi-image screen should not be used for informational purposes. It should be used to get over a mood and atmosphere. The multi-image

Drug Abuse Series Topic

Course Being Aired At Outagamie Office Via ETN System

Outagamie County residents will have the opportunity to learn more about problems in drug abuse through a special lecture and discussion course developed by University Extension, the University of Wisconsin, according to Russell Lukow, county agricultural agent.

The course will be presented from Tuesday, Jan. 21 to May 27, over the state Educational Telephone Network (ETN). ETN is a communications system linking more than 100 conference locations in the state.

Lukow said 15 two-hour meetings are scheduled. Parents, clergy, teachers, social workers, law enforcement and medical personnel or any other interested persons are urged to enroll.

Information on the series and registration blanks are available from the county office at the court house in Appleton.

Man Admits Guilt In Burglary at Printing Firm

A 20-year-old Menasha youth, charged with burglary following a fire at Commercial Printing Co., 112 S. Oneida St., Tuesday, changed his plea to guilty.

Outagamie County Judge Nick F. Schaefer ordered Charles Voigt, 873 Seventh St., be held in jail without bond until sentencing on Jan. 28. Schaefer ordered a pre-state Department investigation by the State Department of Health and Social Services.

Voigt had been free on bond. Trial by jury started Wednesday.

Schaefer said he would take testimony from Appleton detectives concerning the case at the time of sentencing.

Voigt, a former employee of Commercial Printing Co., was charged shortly after the fire which caused an estimated $25,000 damage at the firm June 12.

Hope Special Highlights His Visit to GIs

BY TV SCOUT

7:30-9 — Channel 5 — Chrysler Presents the Bob Hope Christmas Special is always funny and heartwarming, showing portions of Hope's tour of GI bases in the East, including Vietnam. Bob himself edits the huge amount of footage and the show isn't completely set until the last minute. However, numbers that he did set at press time are the Goldiggers doing "Let Yourself Go"; Ann-Margret doing the frog and dancing "Bad News"; Honey Ltd. singing "I'm So Glad"; and Dick Albers and his trampoline act. Linda Bennett and Miss World are an additional pair of pulchritudinous beauties. But, as always, the best parts of the show come from Hope's great stand-up humor and the faces of the appreciative GIs.

6:30-7 — Channel 2 — Blondie has disappeared to be replaced by The Queen and I, a tale of a transatlantic ship about to be sold. In this pilot, which has some funny moments but is overly contrived, Larry Storch, the ship's purser, manages to convince owner Reginald Owen to cruise the Amsterdam Queen into a cruise ship. Billy DeWolfe co-stars.

7:30-8 — Channel 11 — Bewitched concludes its two-part, the first part of which ended with a lush Italian client being turned into a monkey by Samantha's cousin, Serena. In this one, with an important ad agency meeting fast approaching, Sam tries to find Serena to take the spell off the girl, only to have the monkey run away.

7:30-8:30 — Channel 5 — Burl Ives gives a good performance on Daniel Boone as a self-styled egotistical liar who travels with Mr. Dob, his inebriated bear. He arrives at Boonesborough just as a crippled lad (Rory Stevens) is being torn apart by his well-meaning but argumentative parents.

8-8:30 — Channel 11 — Marlo Thomas has a solo show for the greater part of That Girl. She goes home for a weekend after deciding she and her friend (Ted Bessell) are spending entirely too much time together. Her parents, however, are leaving for a convention in New York, but Marlo insists she doesn't mind being alone. She makes a series of telephone calls to old school chums, is frightened by noise in the house and eventually winds up trapped in a folding bed in the basement.

9-10 — Channel 5 — Comedy Is King II is the second edition of Alan King's fast-paced comments on the foibles of today's society. Leslie Uggams, Shirley Jones, Tony Randall, Jack Carter and Nipsey Russell head an impressive guest list, but — as it was the last time — a funny, talented star named Linda Lavin is the one who leaves a lasting impression.

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) — Snow offers drifted in on Carson City today after Indian snow dances in behalf of a winter carnival brought only rain.

"You have only to arrange for the shipping," wrote Mayor John L. Kannenberg of Wausau, Wis., where snow is 37 inches deep.

Craves from Stewart Indian School could dance up nothing better than a rainstorm for the Jan. 15 carnival in their performance on a gambling casino parking lot Friday.

AAA Test How Do You Rate in Winter Driving Skill?

What you don't know can hurt you, especially if it's in the area of winter driving safety.

The following quiz prepared by the Wisconsin Division of the American Automobile Association can point up "gaps" in your driving knowledge which you can fill in by studying the correct answers. Score 20 points for each answer. A score of 100 is excellent; 80, good; 60, fair; 40 or below, poor.

1. If you suddenly find your car on an icy path, what should you do?

a. accelerate
b. slow down quickly
c. avoid braking
d. turn wheel back and forth

2. What is the primary advantage of "pumping" your brakes?

a. it shortens stopping distance
b. it reduces strain on brake linings
c. it creates more heat in brake cylinders
d. it helps prevent skidding

3. When is an icy road likely to be most dangerous?

a. when the ice is melting
b. when the temperature is close to zero
c. when you're the first to drive on it
d. when the ice is frozen solid

4. If your rear wheels start skidding to the right, which way should you turn your front wheels?

a. either way, but quickly
b. right
c. either way, but slow
d. left

5. If steam forms on the inside of your windshield, what's the best thing to do?

a. stop car and wipe outside of glass with glycerine
b. open one vent window slightly and turn on defroster
c. decrease speed until you're going slow enough for steam to dissipate
d. wipe steam off as often as you can as your drive along

ANSWERS:

1-c. Any sudden motion may throw you into a skid. Do not brake, but slow down gradually and be alert for more patches.

2-d. "Pumping" minimize chances of skidding and locking of wheels, but does not shorten stopping distance.

3-a. Ice is always most slippery at or near freezing point.

4-b. Turn wheel in direction of skid to bring car under control, avoid "oversteering" and slow down gradually.

5-b. If this doesn't work or if steam is bad enough, pull wheel off roadway and clear it away.

As the Xavier High School Hawks pack their basketball gear and a trio of winning streaks for Friday night's trip to De Pere, two other ingredients — apprehension and determination — will likely find their way into the equipment bag.

The unbeaten Hawks may be a bit apprehensive about entering Pennings' gym, since that was the scene of the worst defeat in Xavier history — 85-60. By the same token, the Gene (Torchy) Clark-coached Appletonians will be determined that such a disaster won't strike again.

Since that December, 1967, trouncing at Pennings, the Hawks have reeled off 21 straight Fox Valley Catholic Conference victories and have boosted their 7½-year league record to an incredible 102-5. The Squires lost last season's return game, 64-63, and this season's opener, 65-48 — both at Xavier.

Xavier, one of the top-rated teams in the state, have two streaks going other than the conference skein. The Hawks are 13-0 for all games this season and own a 15-win streak over two seasons.

Chuters Face Springs

In other Friday games, Little Chute St. John continues its bid for first-division status when it welcomes Fond du Lac Springs, and Marinette Central travels to Green Bay Premontre. Saturday night, Menasha St. Mary is scheduled to meet Lourdes in Oshkosh.

Friday's game is one of three remaining on Xavier's league schedule that fellow title contenders hopefully regard as potential stumbling blocks for the perennial champions. The Hawks' last three road games are slated on the courts of their closest pursuers — at Pennings (Friday), at Premontre (Jan. 24) and at Manitowoc Roncalli (Jan. 31).

The pursuers' reasoning is that if home-standing Pennings, Premontre and Roncalli could give Xavier the kind of argument that St. John did in Little Chute last weekend (the Hawks salvaged a 55-51 win in the final minutes), the race might not be over yet. If, however, Xavier continues to respond to all challenges as it has in the past, there'll be little chance to stopping the Hawks' bid for an eighth straight title. Xavier plays its last three league

USHL Rivals Clash On Marquette Rink In Game Tonight

Grand Rapids	3	11	6

(Recheater and Canadian Soo are assumed win-loss mark.)

GREEN BAY—The Green Bay Bobcats will be out to even their USHL season series against Marquette and take over sole possession of first place when they visit the Iron Rangers tonight.

The Bobcats took the first game of the season at Marquette and snapped a 2-season jinx in the small Palestra. But the Iron Rangers then swept a 3-game series before Green Bay returned to form with a 5-4 victory at home last Friday.

Only one day of rest then awaits the Bobcats before they travel to Grand Rapids, Minn., to duel the United States Hockey League's newest entry Saturday and Sunday. Grand Rapids replaced Duluth Jan. 9 and assumed the Port Stars 2-11 record. Waterloo handed Grand Rapids its first USHL loss last weekend.

John Harpell hit a team season high with four goals against Marquette at the Brown County Veterans Memorial Arena and Gordy Yewman added the fifth to insure the victory last Friday.

Harpell's "hat-plus-one" feat tied Paul Coppo for the scoring lead. The blond shooter has 27 points on 14 goals and 13 assists. Coppo, with three assists in the same game, has 27 points on 10 goals and 17 as-balances on his right elbow, but somehow it missed the open net behind. The action took place at Toronto Wednesday night. The two teams battled to a 5-5 deadlock. (AP Wirephoto)

The re-charged Lawrence University basketball team runs into a pair of first division Midwest Conference opponents this weekend.

Unbeaten Coe College will entertain the Vikes at Cedar Rapids, Ia. Friday night and Saturday Lawrence will be at Beloit College.

After the Vikes surprised Knox and Monmouth last weekend, Lawrence climbed into a tie for fifth place in the MC standings. However, the Vikes will get no chance to rest on the laurels of a win streak that has now stretched to three (including a non-loop triumph over Mount St. Paul) with the prospects of four straight games on the road.

Three Straight
The Kohawks of Coe College have reeled off three straight conference wins and are averaging 78 points per game. Second-best mark in the league. The Coe wins have included a 74-67 decision over Beloit, a 77-69 conquering of Grinnell and a 83-77 triumph over Cornell.

Beloit has scored wins over Grinnell and Cornell in addition to bowing to Coe.

Coach John Poulson, of Lawrence feels the Vikes have been improving with each contest and said:

"We're playing more as a team now and our depth is getting better. We now have eight or nine players we can shuffle in and out and not lose much of our scoring balance."

Poulson cited the scoring performances of Mike Andrews and Dave Roosen last weekend as they came through with their best efforts so far this season.

Roosen hit for 17 points against Knox and Andrews had 22 against Monmouth.

Point Productions

The contributions greatly helped out the point-productions of forward Bob Townsend and center Brad Childs who have been setting the pace for the Vikings.

Townsend currently is the leading scorer in the conference with an average of 21.8 for six games. Bill Feurst of Knox is close behind with a 21.6 mark and Scott Hanson, Grinnell, is third with 20.3 Childs ranks 14th.

When the Vikes tangle with state rival Beloit Saturday they will be going against the tallest team in the conference. Kit Jones is the leading scorer for the lanky Bucs and presently is tied for fourth place in the loop race.

"Beloit has scored both of its victories on the road," Poulson cited "and this is an indication that they will be a tough customer all the way."

The topsy-turvy, anything-goes Fox River Valley Conference basketball chase heads into a crucial juncture of the season, as the league's 12 teams face a double round of competition this weekend.

With the campaign having reached the half-way mark last Saturday, no less than nine quintets can still harbor some title aspirations. And the remaining three would like nothing better than to spoil efforts of the contenders in games down the stretch.

The current standings find four schools — Neenah, Fond du Lac, Green Bay East, and Green Bay West — gathered at the top of the heap with identical 6-2 records. But close behind, and not out of contention by any means, lie Appleton East and Sheboygan North at 5-3; Appleton West and Manitowoc at 4-4; and Sheboygan South at 3-5.

Share of Hard Knocks

The quartet of contenders in the No. 1 spot could be in for their share of hard knocks.

Neenah, which won its first six loop starts but has since lost its last two, must travel to dangerous South Friday night and then come back for a home tilt against co-leading Fond du Lac the following night.

The Cardinals, who have turned out to be a surprise power in FRVC play, entertain pre-season favorite Green Bay West Friday before tackling the Rockets.

The Wildcats, averaging 6-5 in the starting front line, have caught fire since losing two of their first three starts and have won their last five straight. GBW is host to unpredictable Appleton West Saturday night.

And Green Bay East must play at Appleton West Friday before returning home against South Saturday.

Thick of Battle

The time should be right for Appleton East to get right in the thick of the title fight. The Patriots have the most envid weekend slate of any contender, with a road contest at Preble and home tilt with Southwest on successive evenings. East's two

Omro Rated Seventh Kimberly Retains No. 2 Ranking, Xavier Now 4th

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The "big ten" of Wisconsin high school basketball boasts the impressive record of 101 victories this season with only one loss.

The "little ten" record is not quite so spectacular, although the first four teams and six of the top ten are undefeated, led by Evansville with a 10-0 slate. The elite teams in the weekly Associated Press poll are ranked by the state's sports writers and broadcasters, with ten points awarded for a first Racine St. Catherine and Appleton Xavier, both 13-0, edged forward a notch to third and fourth, respectively. Eau Claire Memorial, 8-0, dropped from third to fifth.

Remains Sixth

Milwaukee Riverside, 9-0, remained in sixth place and Schofield, 9-0, and Madison Edgewood, 12-0, advanced to seventh and eighth, respectively.

Burlington, 9-0, and Menominee Falls, 7-1, wrap up the top ten, with the tenth place club having the only defeat on the group's record.

Evansville cemented its hold as tops in the "little ten," with 132 points to 108 for second-place North Crawford, 9-0. Evansville coach Richard Muenich gives seniors Dave Baumgartner and Tom Allen much of the credit for the Blue Devils' success.

Both are scoring about 19 points per game and leading the Evansville defense, best in the Madison Suburban Conference with 46 2 points a game.

Ninth to Fourth

Monticello, No. 3 and 9-0 shifted downward to make room for North Crawford, Port Edwards, 9-0, rose from ninth to fourth, replacing Wisconsin Dells. McFarland has a 9-1 record. St. Croix Central, 10-0 is sixth. Omro is No. 7 and 10-1, and Palmira, 8-1, is eighth.

Durand, 8-1, moved up a notch to ninth and Gibraltar, 11-0, made its first appearance in the ratings.

Deadline Set For Tuesday In ABC Meet

66th Tournament
Opens Feb. 22 at Madison Coliseum

Whatever the annual American Bowling Congress tournament means to a bowler, next Tuesday is his last chance to exercise the option of entering the world's oldest and largest participation sports event.

Entries for the 66th renewal of bowling's most glittering showpiece close at midnight, Jan. 21. A month is still needed to prepare schedules, notify team captains of squad and lane assignments, install the 400 lanes and complete all the preparations that will insure the big show getting under way properly and on time on Saturday, Feb. 22.

The beautiful Dane County Memorial coliseum, pride of Wisconsin's capital city, Madison, will be the site. The tournament will run 12 to 16 hours a day, continuously for at least 75 days through May 7. An extra four days through the May 11 weekend are available should the usual last minute deluge of entries materialize.

Stepping Stone

The ABC tournament means many things to many people. To some, it could be a stepping stone to international fame. Eligible Regular division champions of this year's tournament will represent the United States, under sponsorship of ABC, in the 5th Inter-American championships of the Federation Internationale des Quilleurs in Puerto Rico in September. To others it will be the thrill of a near-title, the winning of a big prize, the satisfaction of heady competition or just the "feel" of having taken part in the world's most fanciful, most glamorous bowling event.

All intermediate steps for normal entry into the tournament are out, such as checking with local bowling centers or bowling association officials for entry forms. A direct call to ABC headquarters in Milwaukee is urged. Only limited space is available as Madison bids to host the largest ABC tournament in nearly a decade and the fifth largest in history.

A crew headed by entries manager Mike Ewbank will be on hand through midnight Tuesday to handle the last minute calls. The area code is 414, the number 962-3520.

Saturday's Games:

Wayland at Northwestern.
Concordia at Racine.
Univ. School at Milw. Lutheran.

Heartened by its first back-to-back victory feat of the season, the Fox Valley Lutheran High School basketball team will strive to continue its upward climb during the Midwest Prep Conference's double round this weekend.

FVL (2-4) is only one-half game out of the first division as it heads into Friday night's game at Milwaukee's University School (2-3) and Saturday night's home engagement against Wisconsin Lutheran (3-2) against Wisconsin Lutheran (3-2).

The Gerhard Kaniess-coached Foxes, who have beaten non-league Freedom and MPC rival Northwestern in their latest thing approaching similar success, will attempt to keep another victory string going Friday night. They have victimized University School three times in succession. Last season, FVL scored 68-41 and 52-51 wins over the Wildcats, and in their first 1968-9 meeting, the Foxes also prevailed, 61-39.

Charlie Hildebrandt and John Hannemann led FVL to this season's 22-point win over the Wildcats with 20 and 11 points, respectively. Paul Reilly, one of the league's top scorers, paced University School, with 19.

Totals 30 Points

FVL's Mark Bootz, the league's fourth-ranking scorer (with 92 points in six games) scored 30 points in the two wins over the Wildcats last season and got eight against the same team this season.

Beck Goldbeck, another of FVL's top threats, poured in 29 points in last season's two victories and nine in this season's opener. Reilly solved FVL's defense for 27 points in last season's two games, while Jeff Rubin, another returnee, poured in 28 against the Foxes.

The Foxes haven't had anything approaching similar success with Wisconsin Lutheran, another victory string going the defending league champion. Last season, the Vikings posted 61-52 and 93-52 regular-season wins over FVL and added a 65-40 decision in MPC tournament play.

Wisconsin Lutheran's pace-setters in league play have been Kuphall, with 83 points, and Larry Urbanek with 69. Other veterans include Dave Kriehn, and 6-5 Steve Chirillo, who scored 23 points in one of last season's starts against FVL.

Wayland Academy, which has emerged as the favorite to dethrone Wisconsin Lutheran, attempts to remain unbeaten in league play with a Friday game against Racine Lutheran and a Saturday contest against Northwestern.

MADISON (AP)—Bill Bakke, Olympic ski team member, will headline the competition at the Central U.S. ski jumping championships Sunday at the Blackhawk Ski Club near Madison.

Bakke, Adrian Watt and Greg Swor are among the U.S. skiers who will make the trip to Switzerland for the Swiss Ski Week in preparation for the winter Olympics in 1972.

Watt and Swor are from Duluth, Minn.

Announcement of the Swiss trip was made by Bakke in Madison Tuesday.

Irish Topple Detroit Penn Slowdown Nips 9th-Rated Villanova; No. 4 Davidson Wins

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Wildcats of Villanova ran afoul of the cool cats of Pennsylvania Wednesday night.

The result was a Penn slowdown that left Villanova Coach Jack Kraft doing a slow burn after the unheralded Quakers upset the ninth-ranked Wildcats 32-30.

The only other team in The Associated Press Top Ten to see action was the fourth-ranked Davidson Wildcats, who scratched out a 90-82 triumph over stubborn Wake Forest.

A long jump shot by sophomore Steve Bilsky with three seconds left gave Penn its dramatic victory and saddled Villanova with its second loss in 12 starts.

The Quakers froze the ball after Villanova's high-scoring Howard Porter, who managed only three points all night, missed a free throw with 3:35 remaining. Villanova stayed in its zone and finally Penn called time out with 26 seconds left and again five seconds later.

"The play was set up for either me or Dave Wohl to take a jumper," Bilsky explained. "I looked at the clock and saw there were only seven seconds left. It was a little further out than I usually shoot from, but I knew there wouldn't be time to set up a better shot."

Coach Dick Harter, who resorted to the slowdown several times in the past, was ecstatic.

"Unbelievable. I can't believe it," he said. "Villanova's the best team we've played since I've been here."

Ecstatic doesn't quite describe Kraft's feelings.

"What can I say?" he wailed. "I tried everything I could to Havwood of the Titans and two make them play, but they wouldn't. I'm not about to fault Johnny Dee, his first in 61 Dick. It's what he felt he had to do to win, and he won."

"I feel bad for our kids. I feel bad that we lost that way. I 68-all and ran off the next six would have liked it better if points, four by Bob Arzen, who we'd gotten bombed. But that's the pace the Irish with 23 points the game of basketball. You've got to expect everything. The last thing I told the boys when they went out on the court was to watch for the slowdown."

Penn led 19-18 at halftime and the winning shot made Bilsky the game's high scorer with 10 points.

Davidson made 30 of 44 free throws to turn back Wake Forest. It was the Wildcats' 11th triumph in 12 games.

They opened up six-point leads several times in the first half, but Wake Forest caught up each time. The Wildcats then broke away from a 43-41 halftime lead to a nine-point margin midway through the second half behind Mike Maloy and Jerry Kroll, who scored 27 and 23 points, respectively.

Wake Forest closed to 80-76 with 2½ minutes left but Mike O'Neill scored six of his 12 points down the stretch to clinch the victory.

Fight Mars Tilt
Twelfth-ranked Duquesne breezed past St. Francis, Pa. 75-55 in a game marred by a melee that saw two of the losers taken to a hospital for treatment of facial cuts.

The skirmish erupted with 8½ minutes left when Duquesne's Gary Major fouled Bill Snodgrass of St. Francis. Barry and Barry Nelson, the Ducks' 6-foot-9 twins, also suffered cuts about the face.

Earlier in the game, Duquesne Coach Red Manning threatened to pull his team off the court when St. Francis tried to use a freshman. The Francies are allowed to use freshmen in certain games because of the school's small enrollment.

Notre Dame, ranked 16th, whipped Detroit 84-77 despite 30 points by Olympic star Spencer.

Detroit led 44-40 at halftime.

"I feel bad for our kids. I feel bad that we lost that way. I 68-all and ran off the next six would have liked it better if points, four by Bob Arzen, who we'd gotten bombed. But that's the pace the Irish with 23 points

Johnson Issues Final U.S. Economic Report

"Biggest Challenge

In any event, Johnson declared in his report that the job of combining national prosperity with price stability "is the biggest remaining over all challenge facing the nation."

Industrial countries have never solved this problem of inflation, said Johnson, and the United States could not solve it either in the short-term future. But he expressed confidence that eventually an answer would be found. "There is no simple nor single formula for success," he commented. "But this combination (high employment and stable prices) can and must be achieved by the United States and within the next several years."

"Now that we have learned to sustain prosperity, we can surely not allow inflation to erode or erase that victory."

The solutions he advocated lean heavily on the so-called "New Economics."

Cutting taxes and raising government spending in periods of economic slowdown, the opposite when booms threaten to get out of hand; higher interest rates in inflationary times, lower ones in slack periods.

More Productive

But the President said there also must be other steps. One of these, he said, is steady improvement in the productivity of American industries and workers. Another is voluntary agreement by both business and labor to restrain themselves in raising prices and demanding wage costs.

Johnson said he recommended a $3.5 billion budget surplus and extension of the surtax as a tight and prudent program.

appropriate to the present inflationary period. He estimated that this would hold the increase in the nation's output of goods and services to $60 billion in 1969 compared to the $71 billion recorded in 1968.

"The over-all gains will not and should not be as large as those in 1968, but they will still make for a highly prosperous year," he said.

With at this restraint, said Johnson, serious economic pitfalls were possible. A demand could arise for wage and price controls, he said, and imposing them would mean "a dead end for economic freedom and progress."

3 Other Problems

In addition to maintaining prosperity with price stability, Johnson said the Nixon administration would face three other major economic problems. He described them this way:

"We must more fully secure the foundations of the world monetary system and of our own balance of payments."

"We must fulfill our many unmet public needs such as good education, efficient transportation, clean air and pure water. Quality as well as quantity is the key to a better life."

"We must share more equitably the fruits of prosperity among all our citizens. A nation as prosperous... cannot afford to leave any citizen in poverty."

Headlessness Giving Rome Big Headache

Criminals Blamed For Decapitating Many City Statues

ROME (AP)—A lot of ancient Romans have been losing their heads.

The city's superintendent of antiquities reports that 15 old marble statues in city parks have been decapitated since 1962.

The big Villa Borghese Park in the center of Rome lost heads of a satyr, two Hermes statues and half a dozen ancient consuls, senators, warriors and orators.

Not much can be done about it. The statues are scattered along miles of walks through parks and in odd nooks and corners of ancient Rome which are unguarded at night.

Authorities doubt if the beheading is the work of vandals or even souvenir hunters. They believe it's done by thieves specifically commissioned to supply antique statue fragments to a clandestine market.

Some heads eventually are recovered in and around Rome, decorating modern villas. The best fragments and most of the heads probably find their way into the hands of collectors abroad.

What with the wear and tear of time, and the depredations of the early barbarians, Rome has many ancient statues as armless as the Venus de Milo and as headless as Winged Victory of Samothrace.

But one Rome newspaper, Il Messaggero, expressed some fears for the future.

"If this keeps up," the newspaper said, "the time will come soon when there won't be a personage in Rome—at least in marble—with a head on his shoulders."

Tributes for Slain Leader

Georgia Remembers King's Dream

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. received tribute in death that he was never given in life when the Georgia State Senate applauded some of those closest to him.

It was part of ceremonies commemorating what would have been King's 40th birthday Wednesday.

Sen. Horace Ward, who attended Northwestern University instead of the University of Georgia because he is a Negro, was applauded when he extolled King as a great man of the time.

In Atlanta, Ward quoted in the Senate from King's speech at the Lincoln Memorial in Washington:

"I have a dream that one day on the red hills of Georgia the sons of former slaves and the sons of slave owners will be able to sit down together at the table of brotherhood..."

Several African diplomats were in the senate chamber.

The visitors included King's father, the Rev. Martin Luther King Sr., and Mrs. Rosa Park, whose refusal to step to the rear of a city bus touched off the Montgomery, Ala., bus boycotts.

A four-hour memorial service at Ebenezer Baptist church, where King shared the pulpit with his father, was attended by more than 1,000 persons.

The Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, who succeeded King as head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, pleaded "I call upon the forces of good will throughout the land to exert their total influence in seeing to it that the life of James Earl Ray or whoever is proven to have pulled the trigger... is spared." Ray is charged with King's slaying.

Afterwards, 2,000 persons walked 2 1/2 miles to a groundbreaking ceremony for the $2.5 million Martin Luther King Jr. village, a low-rent housing project.

$63,000 Offered For Vase; Turns Out It's Worth 50 Cents

NILES, Mich. (AP)—It's a pretty vase, and that's all it is, Karen Martindale learned to her chagrin Tuesday.

That "oriental" vase a Los Angeles art dealer reportedly offered $63,000 for turned out to be worth just about the 50 cents the 23-year-old housewife paid for it at a rummage sale.

The confusion-and-hope—began after someone from the Art Institute of Chicago reportedly called and said the vase was a 15th century Ming Dynasty.

Mrs. Martindale said. She said an art dealer on the West Coast then called and offered her $63,000 for it.

The Martindales' attorney said Tuesday he had received a letter from the Art Institute saying the vase probably is one of many sold at the Chicago World Fair in 1893 and is of no particular value.

8,640,000 Cigarettes Are Stolen From Truck

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Police are looking for somebody who may have suffered from nicotine fits.

A large truck which contained 720 cases of cigarettes valued at $110,000 was found Monday at a truck stop on U. S. 75. The cigarettes—all 8,640,000 of them—were missing.

Police said the truck was stolen Sunday night from a transportation company parking lot in northeast Houston.

49ers Switch Home Games To Candlestick

Proposal for New Stadium Dropped; Expansion Slated

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco 49ers will play football in Candlestick Park, perhaps as early as next season.

The announcement came after Mayor Joseph Aloisio withdrew his efforts Wednesday to build a new stadium in downtown San Francisco. A committee of the board of supervisors promptly approved a plan to expand and remodel Candlestick Park.

Lou Spadia, president of the 49ers, was delighted. He said he prefers the fall weather at Candlestick to that at a proposed site south of Market street in the city.

The committee was informed the cost of increasing the Candlestick capacity from 42,500 to 66,300 and other improvements would be about $9 million.

It recommended that San Francisco Stadium Inc., leaseholder, submit a new plan for stadium expansion.

There have been controversies over Candlestick Park from the time it was completed eight years ago. There has been some talk lately of building a stadium in another part of the city.

The 49ers have played in Kezar Stadium in Golden Gate Park since the National Football League team was formed. MM355aas Jan. 16

Retires From Detroit Lions

Gordy Heads Players' Group

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — A threatened boycott almost wrecked the staid old league before the exhibition season began. Gordy's retirement after 11 years as a star offensive guard for Detroit, and his selection as executive director, came as the NFL players group and the American Football League Players Association, ended their joint winter meeting Wednesday night.

Full Support
The new president, kicking specialist Jim Bakken of the St. Louis Cardinals, declared Gordy "will have our full support in the coming year."

"I humbly accept this position and I will continue to carry out the progressive policies established by the players association," Gordy said.

When the threatened players' strike was averted in mid-July, a spokesman for NFL owners said the settlement would cost $3 million for the years 1968-69 for pension benefits, administrative costs and related matters.

The players association main office will remain in Detroit. Lee Vance, public relations director, said.

Mention Bays' Willie Davis For Head UW Athletic Post

MADISON (AP) — The list of possible contenders for the post of University of Wisconsin athletic director has been increased by the name of Willie Davis, defensive end for the Green Bay Packers.

The Capital Times quoted Davis Wednesday as saying he would be "very interested" in being approached about the job which opened up last Friday when Ivan Williamson was discharged by the board of regents.

Others mentioned as potential candidates include Elroy Hirsch, Milt Bruhn and Robert (Red) Wilson. All four have expressed interest in the post but none has been contacted officially.

The UW athletic board's special search and screen committee meets Friday for the first time since Williamson was removed.

Davis, 34 and a graduate of Grambling College, is in his 11th year of pro football.

If selected, he would be the first Negro to hold such a high administrative post in athletics at a Big Ten school.

Two titlists will be seeking to repeat their performances of a year ago, and two others will be competing in higher weight classes.

foes have won just two of 16 games between them. West's Terrors have quite the opposite chore at hand. Facing the Red Devils of Green Bay East on the Terror court isn't likely to be a picnic, but trying to beat Green Bay West on the Wildcats' floor a night later looms even more difficult.

GBE will bring the league's leading scorer, John De Young, into Seims gym Friday night. De Young is averaging 23.1 points per game. The more balanced Appleton West attack is led by Mark Catlin, with a 13.8-point average.

Neenah's Tom Koptzke ranks second to De Young, with a 22.3 average. Appleton East's Tom Jones ranks third, with a 19.8 average.

Chicago Loses, 4-3 Red Wings Storm to Fifth Straight Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

One plus one equals five as far as the Detroit Red Wings are concerned, and the new math has nothing to do with it.

Rookie Paul Popiel's first National Hockey League goal and goalie Roy Edwards' first shut-out sparked the surging Red Wings to their fifth consecutive victory Wednesday night, a 4-0 rout of Montreal that enabled them to vault out of the NHL's East Division cellar into fifth place, one point ahead of idle New York.

Elsewhere, Toronto rallied with two goals in the final 5-3 minutes to tie Boston 5-5. Surprising Oakland edged Chicago 4-3, St. Louis held off Philadelphia 4-3 and Pittsburgh downed Minnesota 3-1.

Popiel's soft 60-foot shot got by Montreal goalie Tony Esposito to after only 53 seconds of play and Frank Mahovlich, Alex Delvecchio and Nick Libett beat the rookie netminder in the second period as the Wings won in Montreal for the first time since the 1966 Stanley Cup playoff finals.

The 31-year-old Edwards, a veteran minor leaguer who finally made the NHL last season, kicked out 36 shots.

Full Game
"We played three full periods of hockey," said Coach Bill Gadsby. "There were no let-downs as there have been in other games. We kept the pressure on them from start to finish."

"I thought Edwards did a terrific game. But so did our defense. You have to get top performance from the defensemen in order to get a shutout in this league."

Late goals by Murray Oliver and Tim Horton gave Toronto its tie with Boston and kept intact the Bruins' streak of not having won in Maple Leaf Gardens since Nov. 27, 1965. They have managed five ties in 21 games.

The goals came shortly after 77 minutes apart.

The one point for the tie increased Boston's East Division lead to two points over Montreal. The Bruins have lost only once in their last 15 games. Toronto moved into a third-place deadlock with Chicago, three points ahead of Detroit.

Walton Scores Twice
Ron Murphy, Ken Hodge and Jim Harrison scored for Boston while Mike Walton got two goals and George Armstrong one for the Leafs, setting up the late fireworks.

Esposito's goal was his 26th and, coupled with an assist, gave him 20 points in his last eight games and the NHL scoring lead with 61 points to 60 for Chicago's Bobby Hull.

Defenseman Carol Vadnais scored unassisted goals in the second and third periods as Oakland outlasted Chicago. Gary Jarrett and Ted Hampson also tallied for the Seals.

Vadnais' goal with 10:15 left proved to be the winner as Bob Schumacher tallied at 16:11 for the Black Hawks and Jim Pappin connected with nine seconds to go.

Ron Schock's second goal of the night broke a 2-2 tie at 3:11 of the final period and Tim Ecclestone got the eventual winner five minutes later to extend St. Louis' string to 16 games without defeat against West Division rivals.

Pittsburgh's triumph over Minnesota enabled the Penguins to break a tie with the North Stars for last place in the West Division. The losers' Claude Larose scored first but Earl Ingarfield, Billy Dea and Lou Angotti scored for Pittsburgh.

Deerfield Cage Star Winner Of AP Honor

5-9 Mike Berge Hit
53 Points to Pace
Team's Recent Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Mike Berge of Deerfield High School has been talking all season about breaking his brother's conference scoring record at Deerfield. He did it last Friday, with 53 points, and was named Associated Press Player of the Week for his efforts.

Popping through 20 of 29 field goal attempts was a good start on his total, and he added 13 of 18 free throws to put the frosting on the scoring mark.

Berge, a 5-foot-9 senior guard, is averaging about 20 points per game.

His coach, Oscar Moldrem, calls Mike "a good, fast, aggressive guard who likes offense better than defense."

Fire Away
"We'll let him shoot," Moldrem said. "So far this season, when he scores, we win."

The Demons are 2-7, with the other Deerfield triumph coming as Berge hit for 38 points.

Bob Schmidt of Janesville was again a strong Des Moines, cloudy 38 34 .07 runner-up for Player honors. Schmidt scored more than 20 points for the tenth time in Craig's 11 games, finishing with 31, and added 28 rebounds as the Cougars posted a nonconference victory over Brookfield Central.

Others nominated for Player of the Week honors were Paul Matsen of Racine St. Catherine; Mark Hillebrand of Sheboygan North; Kurt Spychalla of Schofield; Bob Stork of Madison East and Ellis Turrentine of Milwaukee Lincoln.

Coatta May Have Trouble Getting Aides

MADISON (AP)—The austerity program launched by Gov. Warren P. Knowles may cause problems for University of Wisconsin football coach John Coatta in his search for two assistants.

The matter will be taken up Friday by the school's athletic board, Prof. Frederick Haberman, chairman of the group, said Monday.

In a recent directive Knowles called for a freeze on state salaries and on the hiring of replacements for all vacancies in state agencies.

Coatta has had one vacancy on his staff for more than a year and another was created a month ago when assistant coach Gene Felker resigned.

Coatta said he would like to add two assistants to his six-man staff, as authorized by the athletic board, in an effort to step up recruiting.

Knowles' austerity program was initiated for the duration of lion deficit.

All-Amateur Test European Net Stars Ready for Davis Cup

By GEOFFREY MILLER
LONDON (AP)—The last great "Amateur" tennis starts of Europe—Manuel Santana of Spain, Tom Okker of The Netherlands, and Mark Cox of Britain—are ready to set out on what could be the last all-amateur Davis Cup competition.

Critics believe this may be Europe's last chance for a long while to make a real splash in the world tournament.

The big four tennis powers—the United States, Australia, Britain and France—have called for an open Davis Cup with the contracted pros joining in.

Since the cream of the professionals are Australians or Americans, it could result in those two countries dominating the tournament more heavily than ever. They have won the trophy between them regularly since 1937—Australia 16 times and America 10 times.

Stronger Teams
But while the competition remains for amateurs only, the stronger European teams are in with a chance. Santana, Okker and Cox are some of the men who could be facing the United States, the defending champion, in the challenge round.

Santana, Okker and Cox make a lot of money these days, but prizes and appearance fees in open tournaments. But they still rate as amateurs because they play under the jurisdiction of their national associations and are not under contract to promoters.

If this year's matches go according to form, Spain, led by the wily Santana, and The Netherlands, spearheaded by the fleet-footed Okker, could be facing each other in the final of European zone section B next July.

State Pulp Mills Cut Back Pollution

Twelve major Wisconsin pulp mills cut their volume of spent liquor by 1 per cent and put 16 per cent more spent liquor through pollution abatement processes in 1968 than in 1967.

This information was disclosed today by the Pulp & Paper Information Service as it announced the results of its 17th annual survey of the industry's waste output and treatment of mill effluents.

The survey also shows that the mills either utilized or non-pollutionally disposed of 65.8 per cent of their total 1968 pulping solids, as compared with 56.6 per cent in 1967. This represents a 16 per cent improvement in pollution abatement performance over any previous year.

The biggest gain in utilization of liquor solids was registered by one mill's new evaporation plant that came on line during the year and processed a large gallonage of liquor concentrate for burning and for conversion into chemical products.

Along with this new installation, most of the longer established byproducts plants at other mills showed measurable gains. The overall 1968 figure for spent solids utilization rose by slightly more than 15 per cent during the year, and disposal increased by the same amount.

Local Man Missing in Carrier Fire

Carl Berghult on Enterprise;
Related to Ade Dillon Family

Navy Ensign Carl D. Berghult, a captain of the 1963 Lawrence University football team, is the only sailor still missing from the nuclear aircraft carrier Enterprise which was ravaged Tuesday by explosions and fire.

Berghult, 26, husband of the former Jane Dillon, 342 E. Pershing St., Appleton, was one of 17 listed missing following the disaster on the 85,000-ton warship. An air-sea search was called off at sunset Wednesday after 16 crewmen were accounted for.

Naval officials are investigating the cause of the explosions and fire that killed 25 sailors and injured 85 during a training exercise about 75 miles southwest of Honolulu.

Aviation Structural Mechanic S.C. Dennis E. Marks of Big Bend, near Milwaukee, died in the disaster, and Seaman Apprentice Rodney Jaggers of Milwaukee was injured.

Ade Dillon, an Appleton High School-West instructor, said this morning he had received no further word on his son-in-law's fate. Mrs. Dillon flew to San Diego, Calif., Wednesday to be with Mrs. Berghult, Dillon said.

His daughter called Wednesday night and said the Navy would keep in constant contact with her, he said.

Berghult, father of an eight-month-old son, left his home in San Diego about a week ago for his second of three cruises on the Enterprise, Dillon said. He was to return in June.

"One More Cruise"

Berghult was an ordnance officer apparently in charge of loading bombs on airplanes, Dillon said. He had enlisted for a five-year hitch and was due for discharge in 1971.

"He had only one more cruise after this," Dillon said.

Berghult, a Chicago native, married Jane Dillon in December, 1964. They both were graduated from Lawrence earlier that year.

He received a bachelor degree in anthropology from Lawrence but was taking graduate credits in business administration while in the Navy, Dillon said. A full-back, Berghult was one of three football captains in his senior year.

Berghult, a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity, was employed at the George Banta Co., Inc., Menasha, before entering the Navy.

Naval officials carried on the cleanup operations aboard the Enterprise today after it was brought into Pearl Harbor.

Adm. John J. Hyland, commander of the Pacific fleet, said he was "confident that we are going to be able to establish exactly what did happen and what caused it."

The explosions and fire put the Enterprise, world's largest combat vessel, out of action until repairs are completed. No official source would guess how long this would take.

Major Economic Problems to Face Nixon, LBJ Warns

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said today in his final Economic Report that he's leaving behind a solid foundation for continued prosperity, but he conceded that his successor will have to deal with major problems in the economy.

The President, in sending his report to Congress, said the United States has experienced an unprecedented period of prosperity in the last eight years, all under Democratic ad-

Nixon to Go Into Higher Tax Bracket

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate insured Wednesday that Richard M. Nixon will make $200,000 a year as president instead of $100,000, but it puts him in a higher tax bracket and he'll only get $27,500 more than he would have without the raise.

Nixon's take-home pay will be $78,000 a year.

His signature is certain, since Johnson was one of the originators of the idea.

Table Hassle Settled, Talks to be Resumed

President Delighted At Break

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson hailed today the Paris agreement on the shape of a Vietnam conference table and said that now "new talks on the substance of peace in Southeast Asia can open."

Speaking at an unrelated ceremony in the White House cabinet room, Johnson said that three lessons are to be learned from America's experience since he announced a cessation of the bombing of North Vietnam and renounced another run for the presidency last March 31st.

"First," he said, "we must be clear and firm pursuing with our allies the limited but vital objectives we seek in Southeast Asia."

"Second, we must be patient and face the hard fact that fighting is likely to continue as the negotiations are carried forward."

"Third, we should be confident that an honorable peace is possible if we here at home remain steady."

The President, obviously delighted that the way was opened for actual peace negotiations by a decision to seat the rival delegations at a round table in Paris, went on to say that there have been three crises since the preliminary discussions opened in the French capital nine months ago. He said these were on a place for the talks, on terms for the bombing cessation and on procedures for the new talks.

"In each case," the chief executive said, "patience, firmness and fair-mindedness achieved a satisfactory result."

The agreement reached in Paris today, according to informants here, preserves the U.S.-South Vietnamese position of a two-sided conference but allows the North Vietnamese and National Liberation Front to claim that the meeting is a four-power conference.

The provisions of the deal are:

1. The new negotiating sessions will be held at a round table but the round table will be flanked by two rectangular tables at opposite points and about 18 inches away from the round table.

In the U.S.-South Vietnamese view, these rectangular tables establish a dividing line across the round table, with the U.S. and South Vietnamese delegations sitting on one side and the North Vietnamese and NLF representatives on the other.

2. There are to be no flags or name plates in the conference hall, a provision which avoids special identification of the NLF as if its delegation represented a government instead of a revolutionary force inside South Vietnam.

3. The speaking arrangements will be that each delegation on one side speaks in order and then each delegation on the other.

Diplomats refer to this as the "AA, BB" formula. This means that if the United States speaks first, South Vietnam speaks second and then the two representatives on the other side speak.

Had the agreement not been reached with the North Vietnamese in Paris today the whole problem of opening the new round of talks would have gone over to the Nixon administration. Now the new President will be in position to move forward on the substance of the talks—such issues as arrangements for troop withdrawal and the future of South Vietnam.

Weeks of Haggling

The use of a round table and nearby rectangular tables called a similar agreement made at the outset of Big Four talks at Geneva in 1959. Representatives of West Germany and Communist East Germany were invited to attend but not as full participants along with the U.S., Britain, Russia and France.

The main table agreed upon after weeks of haggling was a round table for the four powers, but the Germans were assigned rectangular tables removed from the round table only by a thickness of a pencil.

Spring and Winter seemed to arrive at the same time in the Fox Valley today, as overnight rains and tons of snow combined to clog street drains and put a glaze on all streets. Here, a pair of Appleton Public Works Department workers help the water underground. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Slush Becomes Ice, So Do Valley Roads

Rain and sleet created a giant ice rink of the Fox Valley today, causing a rash of highway accidents and forcing schools to close throughout the four-county area.

And the picture is even getting bleaker. The Weather Bureau predicted a cold front for the state late today, sending temperatures tumbling below the freezing mark and creating more ice on the highways.

Almost an inch of rain fell in the past 24 hours. "The last time we had a storm like this was in January, 1967, when over one inch of rain accompanied by winds reaching 40 miles per hour deluged the Appleton area," a weather official said.

Calumet County Police reported that between 50 and 75 calves were killed when a livestock truck loaded with 170 calves slid off State 57 near Forest Junction Wednesday night, tipping over on its side. Traffic was blocked out two hours.

Several truck drivers were forced to sleep in their cabs in Forest Junction because of the traffic tie-up and slippery roads. Two other semi-trucks went into ditches at Forest Junction and were pulled out by tow vehicles.

Other massive traffic tie-ups occurred at the Little

Chicago intersection of State 55-Outagamie County Trunk KK and at the Outagamie-Brown County line on U.S. 41.

At mid-morning U.S. 41 was wet and slushy and plows were at work. But at that time there still were six trucks and five cars abandoned in the ditch between De Pere and Kaukauna.

At one point this morning 14 cars were counted in ditches along County Trunk KK between Appleton and State 55.

Frank Keuler, Appleton director of public works, and Donald Bengs, assistant director, said today utility crews were clearing corners and hauling snow Wednesday night.

The biggest problem, according to Keuler, is clearing the catch basins throughout the city. "We must get the water off the streets, particularly at the intersections," Keuler said. He was concerned the rain might affect property owners at the corners if the inlets remained plugged.

However, the public works director didn't anticipate any problems in clearing the inlets. Bengs noted there isn't enough manpower for general plowing and this could be a problem if the temperatures drop below freezing tonight.

Sanders also will be out through most of the day and tonight spreading salt and salt chips on city streets and in catch basins in hopes of dissolving the ice.

The storm caused several incidents of power outages in the Fox Valley area.

Most serious reports came from the Chilton, New Holstein and Kiel areas. The latter two communities were without electric power as of 10 a.m. today.

According to Public Service Commission authorities, power has been restored in and around the Chilton area, where some residents experienced outages from 4 to 9:15 a.m. today.

Downed wires attributed to freezing rains also were reported in the Bonduel, Seymour, Black Creek and Hilbert areas.

Four Sides Get Together On Saturday

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

PARIS (AP) — The United States and North Vietnam, with the consent of their respective allies, announced today a major breakthrough which will permit the long-stalled Vietnam peace talks to begin Saturday morning.

The American, North Vietnamese and South Vietnamese and National Liberation Front delegations will meet around an unmarked round table at the International Conference Center.

A U.S. spokesman refused to characterize the agreement in any way, or to say whether it represented a concession by the U.S. Saigon side, which had been insistent all along on a marked table which would clearly show that the peace conference was two-sided.

Under terms of the agreement the round table will be flanked on opposite sides by two rectangular tables, each about 18 inches from the main table, for secretaries.

Evidently the agreement was reached with the understanding that the two sides could view the conference in any way they chose, and the Americans and South Vietnamese still stress their view that it will be two-sided.

Procedural Matters

The sudden and unexpected breakthrough makes it possible for peace conference machinery to be in motion two days before the expiration of President Johnson's term of office.

But for some time it is expected the enlarged conference will deal with procedural matters before it finally gets down to talking about how to achieve peace in Vietnam.

Obviously, the two-side, four-side disagreement continues but has been shunted aside by common consent.

The North Vietnamese spokesman characterized the coming meeting as four-sided. The Saigon spokesman stressed two sides.

Nguyen Than Le, the North Vietnamese spokesman, said the conference would be made up of four delegations "to reflect the idea that they are equal." South Vietnam has stubbornly resisted the idea that the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front should have a status of equality with the Saigon government.

The first meeting, opening at 10:30 a.m.—3:30 a.m. CST — Saturday will thus be at a round table with four members of each delegation present, a total of 16, plus secretaries as needed.

Vance Represents U.S.

The deputy heads of the delegations will be present, since there are still procedural matters to be discussed. Thus, Ambassador Cyrus R. Vance will represent the United States, Col. Ha Van Lau the North Vietnamese, Nguyen Phong, the South Vietnamese and Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, the NLF.

Vance and Lau reached the agreement after two last-minute meetings, one of an hour and a half Wednesday and the other of a half hour this morning.

The shape of the table and speaking arrangements had been at the core of the wrangle which had held up the enlarged talks ever since President Johnson announced the end of the bombing of North Vietnam Oct. 31 and opened the way for a new phase of the conference.

The North Vietnamese spokesman, as if suggesting that the solution was a victory for his side, told newsmen Hanoi had proposed a round table as long ago as Dec. 12, and "the United States and the Saigon administration must bear the entire responsibility for the fact that it has taken to Jan. 18 for the conference to meet."

South Vietnam's spokesman insisted that the accord showed his government's good will.

There will be no flags or emblems in the conference room.

The first session, at least, will be held in private. The North Vietnamese said they wanted the meeting to be public but that the United States objected. The Americans said future meetings might be open to the press.

4 Russians Aloft

Cosmonauts Score a First By Transferring Spaceships

MOSCOW (AP) — Two Soviet cosmonauts transferred from one orbiting spaceship to another today, scoring a dramatic first for the Soviet space program.

The two spaceships, Soyuz 4 and Soyuz 5, had linked up in orbit shortly before cosmonauts Yevgeny Khronov and Alexei Yeliseyev made the transfer.

The official news agency Tass said they moved from Soyuz 5 to join Vladimir Shatalov in Soyuz 4, leaving Boris Volynov alone in Soyuz 5.

Tass said the two spaceships separated after being locked together for 4 hours, 35 minutes. There was no immediate word on the remainder of the flight program.

Radio Moscow said the two cosmonauts were outside the linked-up ships "about an hour."

Khronov and Yeliseyev donned space suits just before the maneuver. Radio Moscow

said the suits were equipped with a new life-support system. "Thus Shatalov's two-day solitude in orbit was over," Tass said.

Khronov exited from Soyuz 5 and climbed aboard the companion ship above the territory of South America. Yeliseyev made his move over the Soviet Union.

"The condition of all cosmonauts is good," Radio Moscow said.

Moscow television showed a delayed videotape of the two cosmonauts inside the orbiting ship preparing to make the transfer. Volynov helped Yeliseyev and Khronov get into their suits.

"Our condition is excellent," Volynov reported.

"Don't be in a hurry," a voice from ground control said.

The picture was of good quality and the inside of the Soyuz 5 cabin appeared to be quite roomy.

One of the cosmonauts could then be seen floating in space, his umbilical cable leading inside the ship.

At one point a movie camera floated out the door into Yeliseyev's arms.

Tass said the maneuver proved the feasibility of exchanging crews on long-term operations or the rescue of spacemen in emergency situations.

The two cosmonauts who made the transfer "carried out a number of scientific experiments and observations," Tass said. It gave no details.

After Yeliseyev and Khronov crawled into Soyuz 4, Tass said, they took off their space suits and occupied their "new working places" alongside Shatalov.

The spaceships "continue the flight in the coupled condition and the program of scientific experiments is being successfully implemented," Tass reported.

Eliminate Statewide Hodge-Podge
Uniform Code for Traffic Law Enforcement Proposed by Agency

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — Wisconsin's game of jailhouse roulette in traffic law enforcement would be ended under a uniform traffic law code proposed by the state judicial council.

Under existing state legal practices, traffic laws may be adopted as local ordinances by localities or as state regulations backed up by criminal sanctions.

Whether an accused traffic violator faces civil actions and only a traffic fine or criminal proceedings and the chance of a fine or imprisonment under state laws depends at present simply upon whether or not the offender is arrested and charged by local or state law enforcement officers.

The new proposal, planned for submission to the 1969 Legislature, establishes a uniform traffic law procedure to apply to most forms of traffic violations in the state motor vehicle code. It would apply as well to all local ordinances adopted under the vehicle code.

State System
Establishing a system of state fines for almost all traffic offenses, it would substitute that system for the existing provisions for both fines and imprisonment under the state laws.

According to the bill analysis prepared for the council by James E. Hough of the agency's staff, the new code would provide an essentially civil legal system under which such charges would be brought, but would combine certain protections of the criminal code.

The new bill proposes that essentially the provisions of criminal warrants be applied to the arrest provisions in traffic law cases. Accused drunk drivers must be held at least four hours, before release, under the provisions, unless he is released to the custody of his attorney or a responsible adult.

Persons arrested without warrants must be either released immediately or after making a cash deposit, stipulating no contest or depositing his Wisconsin driver's license with the arresting officer.

A deposit procedure also would be established, which would allow an individual to post a cash deposit which, while not an appearance bond, could be knowingly used as payment on his fine if the individual chose not to appear in court at his trial date. Such a lack of appearance could be considered by the court to be a plea of no contest, or a warrant for the individual's arrest could be issued by the court.

If no cash deposit has been made, such a warrant would be issued, under the provisions.

If posted, a plea of no contest would exist, which could be changed within 20 days to a plea of not guilty, according to the bill.

If the driver's license was deposited, the court must order it suspended for 30 days or until the case is disposed of.

In subsequent civil cases, such a plea of no contest would not be admissible as evidence in damage suits.

One Jury Trial
Municipal Justice Courts could not hold jury trials under the new system. Requests for jury trials would be transferred to the County Court upon payment of jury fees.

Only one jury trial is possible under the new system, meaning that appeals from a trial to a jury in a County Court would go directly to the State Supreme Court.

An appeal to a Circuit Court from court of record would not result in a new trial. The Circuit Court would have a function similar to that of the Supreme Court on such appeals.

Six-man juries would be ended in traffic cases, unless agreed upon by both parties. A 12-man jury would be required in any other event.

The new bill would also prevent pre-trial adverse examination and the defendant could not be compelled to be a witness against himself. Pre-trial discovery actions would also be limited, except for a limited right of the defendant to inspect scientific equipment involved in the charges against him.

Standards of Proof
Under the proposed bill, the standards of proof for conviction required would call for persuasion by evidence which is clear, satisfactory and convincing. A verdict could be decided by five-sixths of the jury.

Imprisonment could result, under the new traffic law system, if a defendant failed to pay a fine. But suspension of driver's licenses could be substituted for imprisonment by the court as well. Huber Law privileges could be extended to such prisoners to allow them to work while jailed for failure to pay traffic fines. Probation would also be permissible.

Rites Scheduled
For Stockbridge
Village Trustee

CHILTON — Funeral services will be conducted Friday in Milwaukee for Glen R. Torbeck, 58, route 1, a trustee of the Stockbridge Village Board who died Tuesday night at his home.

Calumet County Coroner Leroy Hughes said Torbeck's death was caused by "an acute coronary." Hughes said Mrs. Torbeck, who had retired early, was aroused by a noise and found her husband having trouble breathing. She called the Stockbridge rescue squad and a doctor but Torbeck was dead before the rescue squad arrived.

Torbeck was a carpenter employed by Kloster-Madsen, Inc., and served on the Carpenter Apprenticeship Board of the Carpenters Union in Appleton.

Survivors are his widow, a daughter and two brothers.

By LIGHTY DDT Blamed
For Bird Loss

Wildlife Expert Claims Pesticide Affects Eggshells

MADISON (AP) — A wildlife ecologist from the University of Wisconsin says the pesticide DDT is responsible for the decline in population of some hawks, eagles and other birds.

Dr. James Hickey testified Wednesday at a Department of Natural Resources hearing on a proposal that DDT be banned whenever it contaminates the environment.

Hickey, who has been studying egg shells of hawks and eagles, said that since the introduction of DDT after World War II, the weight of the egg shells has declined dramatically.

Hickey said thin-shelled eggs are likely either to be broken or eaten by the birds themselves.

He said 45 pair of bald eagles were found nesting on the shores of Lake Michigan in the 1940s. Last year, only one pair was sighted, he added.

The hearings, which are expected to last at least three more weeks, are a result of a petition brought by the Wisconsin Citizens Natural Resource Association and the Izaak Walton League.

The environmental defense fund, composed of scientists who are fighting court battles over pollution issues, announced at a press conference after Wednesday's hearings that they would begin a fund raising drive to gather money to continue the battle.

They said the hearing was

Tax Decision Must Wait,
Byrnes Says

WASHINGTON — Whether to extend the 10 per cent federal surtax beyond its June expiration date cannot be determined until May, Rep. John W. Byrnes of Green Bay said today.

The congressman, top Republican on the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, made this statement after commenting that a President-elect Richard Nixon's reaction to the surtax extension is "reasonable." Nixon said after President Johnson's State of the Union address this week that the surtax currently seems necessary, but that circumstances later in the year will decide whether he will recommend extension beyond the end of this fiscal year which is June 30.

Byrnes also said he believes Social Security benefits should be increased to keep in line with the changing cost of living index.

"There is no question that Social Security benefits should have a built-in escalation, directed at keeping the benefits at the level of the current cost of living," Byrnes said. He added that the committee will have to go into a more detailed study before arriving at a formula on which to base the escalation of benefits.

Byrnes' committee will also be installed. Mrs. James Van Dyke is president; Mrs. Robert Dawson, vice president; Mrs. Jerome Wallenfang, secretary; Mrs. Floyd Smith, treasurer; Mrs. Russell Hunt, historian; and Mrs. Leon Patterson, chaplain.

The officers of Bethel 24 of Job's Daughters will perform the Cross ceremony.

DeMolay Officers
To be Installed at Temple Saturday

John Van Dyke will be installed as Master Counsellor of the John T. Rose Chapter, Order of DeMolay, at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the Appleton Masonic Temple.

A reception for relatives and friends of newly installed officers will be held at 9:00 p.m.

Also assuming new duties will be Lawrence Dawson, senior counsellor; Gordon Schroeder, junior counsellor; Jerome Wallenfang, treasurer; Bret Smith, scribe; Randolph Dumbald, senior deacon; Bruce Gooding, junior deacon;

Jerry Haugner, senior steward; Scott Squier, junior steward; Larry Patterson, chaplain; Eric Traas, sentinel and James Bronoel, standard bearer and preceptor, Lawrence Frye, orator and preceptor. Other preceptors are Kenneth Ruppright; Fred Ingmundson, Russell Olson and William Porter.

Bank's Assets Hit $10 Million For First Time

Annual Report of Dairymen's State Given at Clintonville

CLINTONVILLE — Total assets of the Dairymen's State Bank exceeded $10 million in 1968 for the first time in the bank's history, according to the annual report of Orval Malueg, president.

At the stockholders' meeting Wednesday afternoon, Malueg reported that total deposits increased $739,978 to $9,581,180. There were 414 new certificates of deposit issued, 235 new savings accounts and 303 new checking accounts. The bank now has 1,430 savings accounts, 2,558 certificates of deposit, and 1,998 checking accounts for a total of 5,986 accounts.

The demand for loans continued strong during the year, particularly in the mortgage category. They included real estate loans, farm loans, commercial and industrial loans, automobile loans, consumer loans, home improvement loans, personal loans, commercial paper, and other loans such as churches and schools. Loans were increased last year by

Brillion Building Hits $38,600 in December

BRILLION — Building permits estimated at $38,600 were issued during December by Cliff Benzschawel, building inspector.

A 40 by 80 foot addition to the core and shell department at the Brillion Iron Works accounts for $35,000 of the total.

Other permits were issued to Otto Arndt for a $1,000 kitchen remodeling; James Schuh, $2,000 for a new foundation under a home he moved and Earl Geiger for a $600 home remodeling.

Ice Buildup on River Opened by Dynamite

LITTLE CHUTE — Village officials Tuesday dynamited an ice jam on the Fox River which threatened to flood the village garage and sewage treatment plant.

The buildup of ice and snow was the result of a dam flood gate necessarily being kept open to make room for the heavy spring runoff from Lake Winnebago.

A village official said the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers could not close the gate to prevent the buildup because a certain water level must be maintained.

A demolition team from Atlas Chemical Industries, of Green Bay, was employed to set off the charge. A village official said the swirling water causes

Farm Judging Teams Picked

WAUPACA — Township judging teams for the annual Waupaca County Bankers Award have been named and will meet Jan. 23 at the Weyauwega Hotel, according to Duane Schultz, president of the Bankers Association.

After the meeting, the three-man judging teams will review progress on four or five pre-selected farms in each area to determine a township winner. The five farms per township were selected earlier by the directors of the Waupaca County Farm Improvement Association (WCIFA).

Directors of the WCIFA are Palmer Myhra, Iola, president; Arthur R. Paske, Scandinavia, vice president; Donald Long, Weyauwega, secretary-treasurer. Other directors include Leo Ferg, Manawa; David Hartfiel, Weyauwega; Marvin Hintz, Marion; Roger Rusch, Fremont; Richard Russ, New London and Glenn Tellock, Bear Creek.

Recognize Accomplishments

The Bankers Award program is designed to recognize outstanding accomplishments in agriculture, soil conservation, community service and family living. However, much of the credit for the past success of the award program goes to the farm judging teams who give their time and experience in selection of a township winner, Schultz said.

Kenneth Halverson, of the Soil Conservation Service and Joe Walker, county agent, will be the Weyauwega meeting to explain the use of the score cards and will make township assignments to the judges in a brief session immediately after the dinner. The teams will judge nominees from townships other than the one in which they live.

Judging teams for the program from the various townships of the county follow:

Bear Creek — Milton Zschachner, chairman, Tom Bonikowski and Clarence Behnke; Cladonia — Wallace Nysse, chairman, Roger Rusch and John Rieckmann Jr. Dayton — Herbert Hamm, chairman, Jim

Town Judges

Lind — Grand Sorensen, chairman, Jerome Zabel and Paul E. Pope, Little Wolf — Eugene Eder, chairman, Lester Miller and Clarence Prellwitz.

Boy Scouts Help Waupaca Dig Out Fire Hydrants

WAUPACA — Boy Scouts came to the city's rescue Monday evening with troops assisting firemen in shoveling out fire hydrants buried in the snow.

Fire hydrants had become a serious concern of the fire department.

The scouts, some of their leaders and members of the fire department spent several hours at the task.

"Just keeping the streets open has been a heavy work load for the street department which was unable to uncover the many fire hydrants throughout the city," Fire Chief Bob Hansen said. He expressed his thanks to the Scouts for the fine job they did in helping with the project.

First Test Waupaca Court Backs Shoreland Zone Denial

WAUPACA — A Waupaca County zoning board of adjustment denial on a proposed construction in the newly designated flood plain zone has been upheld by County Judge Wendall McHenry.

The request was made by Floyd Granger Jr., 1002 Mill St., New London, who was seeking to build a single family residence on a parcel of land on the east bank of the Wolf River near Shaw's Landing, south of New London.

The proposed construction is not permitted under the county's shoreland zoning ordinance adopted as the first in the area in November of 1967.

Charles Sherburne, zoning administrator, initially denied the request.

First Case

The case reportedly is the first in the Fox Valley on the shoreland program which has gone past the county board of adjustments.

Under the ordinance, construction is restricted within a certain distance from surface waters. The state in 1967 ordered all counties to adopt the regulation, along with a sanitary code and subdivision regulations, to help protect lakes and streams.

All nine county members of the Northeastern Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission adopted the flood plain ordinance but have only had a few board of adjustment cases.

The denial was appealed to the board of adjustments, and finally the county court, as allowed under the law.

Validity Challenged

Granger, who petitioned for the construction contended the board action was arbitrary and capricious, and also challenged the validity of parts of the zoning ordinance.

McHenry said the ordinance was valid, adding the county had sufficient reason for not permitting the construction.

Sherburne expects the decision to "go a long way in helping strengthen the enforcement of the ordinance and also help the board of adjustment in their work."

He advised prospective buyers of lake or stream frontage to consult with county zoning officials before making purchases and construction plans.

FWD Chief Challenges Clintonville

CLINTONVILLE — Calling for the attracting of new industry to develop a broader tax base, Don Heinisch, president of the FWD Corporation, Tuesday addressed the annual dinner meeting of the Association of Commerce.

Heinisch pointed out that $323,000 of the city's $1,070,043 budget is paid by FWD and noted that industrial diversification will broaden that tax base.

He also discussed the corporation's present status and considered its future.

Heinisch used several dozen colored slides showing the history of the FWD trucks; showing the three plants at Clintonville, Portland, Ore., and Kitchener, Ont., Canada; showing improvements on current products, and pointing to new products which are in the developmental stage.

He indicated that perhaps some of the FWD products might very well be employed in Clintonville and chided Mayor Frank Sinkewicz, reminding him that the Clintonville Airport was closed by snow recently for too long a time and that the city might do well to invest $28,500 in an FWD rotary snow plow, snow thrower.

Heinisch touched on the earth moving and industrial phases of the FWD line and showed a model of the tallest aerial platforms in the world extending 150 feet in height.

He referred to the FWD

Corporation as a "sleeping giant," saying that in his opinion, it had a great opportunity to capture a much larger share of the market than it now holds.

His discussion centered about the test of a slide which appeared again and again in the course of his talk as he emphasized these words: "It is the obligation of management to recognize the need for, to sponsor, and direct change."

He told the more than 200 persons present at the meeting that he could assure them that FWD, or he as an individual, are not against getting new industry in town. He emphasized how completely the economy of this area depends upon FWD.

Brillion Restricts Parking On Snow-Banked Streets

Mayor Voices Disapproval of Tarr Task Proposal, Claims Small Communities to be Hurt

BRILLION — Parking on only one side of all city streets except in the business district was approved Monday by the city council.

City police and Fire Chief Oscar Beilke Sr., in conjunction with the police and fire committee, will post signs throughout the city designating restricted areas.

Action came after Beilke told the council that snow banks along city streets hinder clearance for fire vehicles. He also is seeking residents' aid in clearing snow away from fire hydrants.

No parking will be allowed on either side of Maple, Petty and Beach Streets.

Problems resulting from snow dominated the council session. They include:

- A reminder of a city ordinance requiring clearance of snow from sidewalks.
  - Consideration of an ordinance which would disallow snow being shoveled from private property onto city streets by homeowners and businessmen.
  - Snowmobiles are not permitted on city streets, and persons tampering with or moving the snow restriction signs will be prosecuted.
- Mayor Clarence Wolf voiced disapproval of the Tarr Task Force's new formula for the redistribution of local shares of state taxes. Brillion would definitely be hurt because of its low equalized tax rate and abundant state aids received, he said.

American Abroad Program Chilton High Student Will Study in Brazil

CHILTON — Judith Rollman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester P. Rollman, route 4, has been selected by the American Abroad program to spend a year studying in Brazil.

Miss Rollman, who is a senior at Chilton High School, was selected for the scholarship after interviews and screening on local, state and national levels.

Mr. and Mrs. John Freiburger, Chilton, who are chairman of the local program, received notice from the international office in New York City that Miss Rollman won the scholarship and would leave Wednesday to live with a family in Natal, Brazil.

She will live with the Mancel Aveline family consisting of three boys, ages 24, 12 and 13 and a daughter, 18.

An aunt, who is a dentist also lives with the family.

Natal is a small town on the Atlantic coast, about five degrees south of the equator. The host family operates a small store that is connected with their home. During the weekends the family often goes to their ranch which is on a lake or drive to the beach for swimming.

Miss Rollman will arrive there at the start of the summer holidays. This was planned so she would have an opportunity to get acquainted and learn Portuguese, which is the national language.

She and her Brazilian sister will attend the Escola Demestica Da Natal, which is a private school in Natal. She will be classified as a senior. She will return to Chilton next January.

Meeting in Chilton Catholic Schools to Consider Uniting

GREEN BAY — Possible consolidation of several Catholic elementary schools will be discussed tonight at St. Michael Church, Whitelaw, and at 7:30 p.m. Friday at St. Mary Church, Chilton.

Parishes involved in the Chilton meeting include schools in Sherwood, St. John, Hollandtown, Greenleaf, Wrightstown, Chilton, Charlesburg, Jericho, Stockbridge and Hilbert.

Tonight's meeting involves schools in Whitelaw, Kellnersville, Francis Creek, Reedsville, Clark Mills, Maple Grove, Cleveland and Osman.

According to the Rev. Richard Kleiber, Green Bay Diocesan superintendent of schools, the meetings do not mean that consolidation will take place. They are purely exploratory, he said.

However, he added, the current shortage of teaching sisters could be helped with consolidation in these two areas.

"It could be that we could gain as many as 10 teaching sisters through some consolidation," the priest said.

At the end of this school year the diocese is losing at least 47 Franciscan Sisters of Christian Charity, Manitowoc, presently teaching in the Catholic system here.

Savings and Loan Re-elects Three At Clintonville

CLINTONVILLE — Three directors of the Clintonville Federal Savings and Loan Association were re-elected to three year terms at the annual stockholders meeting Wednesday at the association's office.

They were S. J. Tilleson, Dr. R. E. Knister and Owen J. Tilleson.

The board re-elected all officers as follows: Harold Olk, chairman; Owen J. Tilleson, president; Dr. Knister, vice president; Walter McIntyre, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Myrene Hedtke, assistant secretary and treasurer.

At the organizational meeting of the board following the annual meeting, Mullarkey was elected chairman; Malueg, president; Feltz, vice president; and Donald S. Goltz and Elaine R. DeBakist, assistant cashiers.

Robert A. Gericke, who has served as cashier since July, 1967, has resigned effective Feb. 1 to accept a new position at the Seymour State Bank.

Mullarkey, who has been a director of the bank since 1953, was elected chairman of the board at a directors' meeting Jan. 6 to fill the unexpired term of the late Max Stieg. At that time the board elected Wanta director to complete Stieg's term.

August Ecker Dies Chilton Man Victim of Car-Truck Collision

CHILTON — A 73-year-old auto around into a snowbank on rural Chilton man injured in a car-truck collision became Calumet County's first 1969 road fatality early Wednesday night.

August Ecker, route 3, was in critical condition at Calumet Memorial Hospital following the near head-on collision shortly before noon on State 57. He died about 7:15 p.m. from crushing injuries to the right side of the chest, the lung and possibly the liver, according to Leroy Hughes, Calumet County coroner.

The accident occurred just north of U.S. 151 in the city's southeastern part.

Police said the Ecker car was demolished. The truck radiator and front end was damaged extensively, police said.

The semi-trailer truck was driven by Roland Miller, 40, Waupun. Chilton police said the impact spun the northbound Home, Kaukauna.

Calumet County recorded its first 1969 road death Wednesday when August Ecker, 73, route 3, Chilton, died from injuries he suffered when his auto collided nearly head-on with this semi-trailer truck on State 57 on Chilton's south side. The demolished auto was spun around into a snowbank by the late morning crash. (Connors Photo)

Little Friction Appears

Hickel, Packard Sail Smoothly in Senate Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic-controlled Senate committees are nearing the end of their hearings on top appointments in the new Republican administration with little apparent friction in evidence.

Gov. Walter Hickel of Alaska, whose comments in the wake of his designation as secretary of the interior alarmed some conservationists, had relatively smooth sailing in a day of testimony before the Interior Committee.

Hickel returned today for further questioning. Sen Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., chairman of the Interior Committee, commented at the end of the initial session, "nothing has come up yet that I consider a matter of concern."

Hickel pledged to work with Congress to develop all the nation's resources.

David Packard, named deputy secretary of defense, drew expressions of support from several members of the Armed Services Committee after he explained his plan to place in trust, during his service, his $300 million in stock in a company doing extensive government business.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee had kind words for William P. Rogers, named secretary of state, after hearing him in a closed session.

"My feeling is that he is a broad-gauged man, not doctrinaire, and capable of adjusting to change," said the Arkansas Democrat.

Routine Questioning
Massachusetts Gov. John A. Volpe and former Budget Director Maurice Stans appeared for routine questioning by the Commerce Committee. Volpe is designated secretary of transportation and Stans secretary of commerce. Appearing before Senate committees today are Gov. George Romney of Michigan, designated secretary of housing and urban development; George Schultz of Chicago, secretary of labor, and Clifford P. Hardin of Nebraska, secretary of agriculture.

The Cabinet hearings, being held in advance of President-elect Nixon's inauguration Monday to speed the transition of government, will end Friday with the appearance of Winston Blount, named postmaster general, before the Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee.

Nixon plans to submit his nominations formally after being sworn in the Senate then can act on them without referring them to committees.

Hickel's appearance bore no relation to the strong confrontation expected.

Jackson suggested that "the issues and questions which have been raised may be based on inadequate information or misunderstandings."

Although the armed services panel is yet to reach a final decision on Packard, several members expressed appreciation to him for making the financial sacrifices involved in accepting the defense post.

He said he would lose, during his government service, more than $700,000 a year in dividends on the stock in the Hewlett-Packard Corp., an electronics instrument firm of which he was a cofounder.

Under terms of the trust, he said, he would contribute to charity any increased value in the stock and dividends, but would have to absorb any losses.

'Ecstasy, Pain' Experienced by Vice President

NEW YORK (AP)—The vice presidency, says Hubert H. Humphrey, is an experience in "ecstasy, pain, humiliation and frustration."

The vice president characterized the nature of his office in brief, impromptu remarks Monday before turning to a prepared speech on civil rights at a book and author luncheon.

An earlier speaker, journalist and author Alastair Cooke, had quoted H. L. Mencken's definition of the vice president as "the man who is sitting in the outer office of the President, waiting to hear him sneeze."

"You have never suffered the vice presidency, Mr. Cooke, how can you really know it? How can you describe the ecstasy, pain, humiliation and frustration unless you have experienced it?" Humphrey asked in a light vein.

Prefers Rogers to Rusk

Fulbright Happy—Now

WASHINGTON (AP)—The incoming secretary of state, William P. Rogers, has it made with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, but the question is, for how long?

Given the pressures of international power politics in Vietnam, the Middle East and elsewhere, the era of good feeling may not be lasting, but as for now the affable Rogers has won over the committee chairman, J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark.

Fulbright praised Rogers, an appointee of President-elect Nixon, after a two-hours closed hearing by the committee Wednesday.

It has been a long time since Fulbright, a severe critic of Johnson administration policies in Vietnam, has had anything kind to say about a secretary of state. But the contrast between his criticism of retiring Dean Rusk and his praise of the oncoming Rogers could indicate some cooperation with the Republican administration that Fulbright denied to his fellow Democrats.

Possible Agreement
"My feeling is," Fulbright told a news conference, "that he (Rogers) is a broad gauged man, not doctrinaire and capable of adjusting to change. "He is not dogmatic. He hasn't made up his mind that we can't negotiate with the Communist countries." What seemed to please Fulbright, and a majority of the committee, was Rogers' attitude that he was not taking office as a hard-line anti-Communist but was willing to explore avenues of possible agreement without deciding in advance that any agreement would be worthless if reached.

Fulbright was careful for once not to criticize the Johnson administration. But his implications were plain.

The chairman was cheerful in reporting that Rogers favors early talks with the Russians, despite indications that Melvin R. Laird, designated for secretary of defense, thought backwash from the Czechoslovakian invasion required further delay.

Rogers wanted the Senate to give high priority to the treaty aimed at preventing the spread of nuclear weapons to nations which do not have them, Fulbright said.

President Johnson tried to get the Senate to act on the treaty but failed. It was never clear just what timetable President-elect Nixon had in mind for the ratification attempt.

Someone Offers To Buy All State California Schools

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Somebody wants to buy California's state schools, all 19 of them.

The idea, says Director Andrew R. Lolli of the state General Services Department, is to lease them back to the state. California would get a big wad of cash and the investor would get a steady income.

The offer for the nine University of California campuses and 19 state college campuses is being looked into on an exploratory basis, Lolli said.

He declined to identify the

Pentagon Procurement Policy Called 'Toothless' by Rickover

WASHINGTON (AP)—Adm. Hyman G. Rickover charged in testimony released today that defense contractors are collecting $2 billion a year on Pentagon contracts because of procurement regulations that are "toothless, loose and outmoded."

The admiral, observing that similar criticism over the years "has earned me disfavor among some of my superiors," called for a drastic overhaul by Congress of Defense Department procurement procedures. Neither the Pentagon, the Commerce Department nor the General Accounting Office will, or can, do it, he said.

Rickover testified during hearings on defense industry profits by the Joint Economic Subcommittee headed by Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis.

'Really Shocking'

The hearings, held last November, were called after a series of articles on defense spending by The Associated Press Special Assignment Team revealed that there is no independent auditing of more than $10 billion a year spent by the Defense Department for goods and services. This is money allocated for contracts which are not subject, because of various exemptions, to review by the Renegotiation Board.

At one point in Rickover's testimony, Proxmire observed, "This is shocking; this is really shocking."

"What is so shocking about it, sir?" replied the admiral. "It has been going on for many years."

Rickover, head of the program to develop nuclear propulsion plants for naval ships, told the subcommittee:

1. A Defense Department official refused to approve one of his program's $50 million contracts "because he thought the contractor should get a higher buyer or say how many millions or billions were involved.

"As far as money is concerned," Lolli said, "there is no problem. The buyer painted a very rosy picture."

profit than the latter had previously agreed to accept."

"Another Department of Defense procurement official told me I had no business negotiating a profit lower" than suggested by procurement regulations.

2. In another case, "I found that one supplier was charging the government $8 an hour for design work while he charged commercial customers only $6 an hour for the same work."

Jordan Trying to Buy Food for Its Soldiers

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—A Jordanian military mission is here shopping for lamb and other products to feed its troops.

Foreign trade office sources said Monday.

The mission, headed by Maj. Gen. Rashid Arekat, reportedly wants to buy 2,500 tons of frozen lamb. It is also studying the purchase of other products included in an Argentine export catalogue.

While he said the Pentagon held that generally accepted accounting principles were followed in this case, the General Accounting Office concluded the Defense Department had been overcharged $5 million.

Defense Department officials, said Rickover, claim they have "no knowledge of excessive profits," yet "they have no knowledge of the profits being made on more than 50 per cent of their contracts."

He gave these other indictments:

—Suppliers of propulsion turbines are insisting on 20 to 25 per cent profit, compared with 10 per cent a few years ago.

—Several nuclear equipment suppliers are requesting 15 to 20 per cent profit.

—Profit percentages on shipbuilding contracts have doubled in the past two years.

Guild Members Voting On New Pact With AP

NEW YORK (AP)—Members of the United Telegraph Workers union returned to work at Associated Press offices today, while striking Wire Service guild members voted on a new management offer to end their week-long walkout.

The UTW employees, who operate and maintain teleprinters, and other equipment, had refused to cross picket lines of the guild, which struck AP at 8 a.m. last Thursday.

The telegraphers were ordered by their union to return at 8 a.m., local time, today in AP bureaus across the country. A federal mediator announced in Washington Wednesday night that the guild would vote on the proposals for a new contract.

The resumption of work by the UTW put AP transmission operations back to normal. Supervisory personnel had been operating the machines.

A Guild spokesman said the union hoped to complete the vote by 6 p.m. tonight. The Guild negotiating committee recommended rejection of the new AP offer, saying: "Our position is that this proposal does not achieve the goals for which our members voted to strike but it does represent the greatest gain that could be made at the bargaining table at this time."

The new proposal adhered to the $250 weekly top minimum for newsmen, photographers and some other employees, offered at the start of the strike in the third year of the contract. The new offer did not include the modified Guild shop which had been one of the Guild's demands.

Alcoholism Discussed at Woman's Club

NEW LONDON — "Alcoholism is Everyone's Business" was the topic of Sister M. Blandine, St. Agnes Hospital, Fond du Lac, Monday at the New London Woman's Club meeting.

Sister M. Blandine began working with alcoholics in 1940 in Monroe. She explained she has learned more through practical experience than from classes.

"Alcohol is as old as man, but in our present age, it seems to be a part of our culture. So alcohol drinking is causing more alcoholism, especially among women, than ever before. Alcoholics are victims, not that they want to be... the sad part is they do not seek the help they need," she observed.

Members of the Catholic Women's Study Club were guests at the meeting.

Mrs. W. A. Bender reported plans had been completed to have a Waukesha County judge talk to junior and senior high school students April 16.

The next meeting will be a tour of Curwood, Inc., at 1:30 p.m. Jan. 27.

Girl's Kidney Fund Now Totals $2,243

KAUKAUNA — Contributions to the Mary De Coster Kidney Fund have reached a total of $2,243, according to Sister Shirley, fund drive chairman.

Money is being raised by a group of interested adults and school children to help Miss De Coster, a sixth grade student scheduled to undergo a kidney transplant at Madison this summer.

The latest event, a double header basketball game between four grade school basketball teams, netted $245 for the fund.

Containers in business places throughout the city have already brought in $353 and the containers will remain in strategic locations until the conclusion of the drive.

Christmas caroling by Holy Cross School children raised $1,158 and a Holy Cross Christmas program brought in another $264. The Kimberly American Legion recently donated $75 to the fund and outside contributions to date amount to $49 according to Sister Shirley.

Disbursement of funds will be handled by a group of trustees.

"Many people are giving a great deal of time and effort to make this fund drive a success. We appreciate the contributions of those who have donated and also the sacrifice of those who have worked for its success," said Sister Shirley.

GOP Withholds Endorsement Of Candidate

All Roads Hazardous Ice Puts Trucks, Cars Into Ditches

Declines to Pick Laird's Replacement In 7th District

STEVENS POINT — Seventh District Republicans have decided against endorsing a candidate for Rep. Melvin R. Laird's seat in Congress and instead will support whoever wins the GOP nomination in a primary election.

Laird, a Republican, is expected to be confirmed by the Senate as President-elect Richard Nixon's secretary of defense. Hearings are being held in this week.

Howard Woodside, chairman of the seventh district GOP, said the party executive committee decided Tuesday night to leave the choice of Republican candidates up to voters in the primary, rather than calling a special caucus to endorse a candidate.

Three men currently are expected to seek the nomination. There also have been three names mentioned as likely contenders on the Democratic ticket.

Numerous cars and trucks of road conditions remain in roadside ditches today as a result of the freezing rain that glazed roads and streets throughout the Fox Cities Wednesday night.

The Wisconsin State Patrol urged motorists to drive only in case of an emergency as reports indicate that all major thoroughfares are slippery and extremely hazardous, especially in the passing lane, and all secondary roads are virtually impassable.

A United Parcel semi-truck and two semi-trailer trucks were involved in an accident in the Town of Winchester about 11:30 p.m. Wednesday, resulting in $4,000 damage. The Winnebago County Sheriff's Department reported that the trucks, approaching in opposite directions, slid into each other. There were no injuries.

Slippery conditions also caused a semi-trailer truck to go off U. S. 45 in the Town of Clayton; a milk truck slid off the road in the Town of Omro, and a county squad car slid into a ditch off of County Trunk E near U. S. 41 west of Oshkosh.

Appleton schools remained open for those who could get to their classes. However, rural buses serving the Appleton area were held up two hours because of the hazardous conditions.

Woodside said one of the reasons for the executive committee decision was that "there was some question whether everybody would abide by an endorsement. If they don't then there is not an awful lot to be gained, and you're tagged as a 'kingmaker,'" Woodside said.

He said "it's going to be tough enough as it is" electing the party's choice.

Woodside said the district's voters are "very prone to switch parties," and he predicted "a very close horse race right down to the finish." The outcome of the special election to choose Laird's successor, Woodside said, "will depend on who the two finalists are" from the two parties.

Republicans currently expected to run are State Sen. Walter John Chilsen, Wausau; Hyde H. Murray, an Ogdensburg native and former legal advisor to Republicans on the House Agriculture Committee, and Carl

Program Set for Church Meeting At Clintonville

CLINTONVILLE — "Surprise at the Crossroads" will be the subject of a dialogue between Robert Ehrlicke and Mrs. Arthur Henderson for the program at the family potluck dinner and annual meeting of Christ Congregational Church at 6 p.m. Sunday.

The dinner will be charge of the Women's Christian Fellowship. Charles Glocke, moderator, will preside at the business session which will include reports of the officers and committee chairmen. Election of officers and committees also will be conducted.

The dialogue will honor Ehrlicke's experience in Honolulu last summer when he visited the Church of the Crossroads.

A baby-sitting service will be provided during the meeting.

Dretzke, a Mnawa industrialist and local party official.

Democrats include Assemblyman David R. Obey, Wausau; assistant Assembly minority leader; Robert Haack, Mosinee; a graduate student and former social worker and juvenile officer, and Will Sandstrom, Wausau, a biochemist who tried unsuccessfully for the Democratic primary nomination to run against Laird last fall.

Officially, Laird remains the district's representative. He has said he will resign as soon as he is confirmed as defense secretary. Gov. Warren Knowles is expected to call the special election for April 1 and the primary March 4, to coincide with spring balloting for judgeships and other local posts.

Loss in New London Accident Exceeds $100

NEW LONDON — More than $100 damage was reported in a two-car crash about 12:50 p.m. Tuesday at Beacon and Division streets.

City police said a car driven by Howard N. Palmer, 32, route 1, was headed east on Beacon Avenue and collided with a car driven by Elsie E. Kopitzke, 70, 111 E. Warren St., traveling south on Division Street.

Strong Field in Wrestling Tourney

NEW LONDON — A strong field is entered in the third annual New London Invitational Wrestling Tournament to be staged here Saturday.

Two titlists will be seeking to repeat their performances of a year ago, and two others will be competing in higher weight classes.

Returning Champions

Green Bay East's Randy Vandeveld will be seeking his third straight championship. Vandeveld won the 95-pound title in 1967, repeated with a 103-pound championship last year.

Terrors Face 2 Co-leaders In FRVC Tilts

Games have won just two of 16 games between them.

West's Terrors have quite the opposite chore at hand. Facing McGinnis, Freedom, 6-2, and the Red Devils of Green Bay Marasch, New London, 6-2, East on the Terror court isn't likely to be a picnic, but trying to beat Green Bay West on the Wildcats' floor a night later looms even more difficult.

GBE will bring the league's leading scorer, John De Young, into Seims gym Friday night. De Young is averaging 23.1 points per game. The more balanced Appleton West attack is led by Mark Catlin, with a 13.8-point average.

Neenah's Tom Koptzke ranks second to De Young, with a 22.3 average. Appleton East's Tom Jones ranks third, with a 19.9 average.

Combined Locks Objection Assignment of Pupils Protested in Kimberly

KIMBERLY — A petition of it is more hazardous because of a lack of sidewalks. School officials pointed out, that the district is making an effort to provide youngsters in middle grades the same caliber of education in all schools and this will not be possible if middle grade pupils attend Ryan School and the lower grade children attend Janssen School.
The school board had worked out an attendance plan after a survey of all public and parochial schools in the district to learn enrollment plans for the coming year. It was felt the plan as proposed would be most satisfactory, but since objections have been raised, the board has agreed to reconsider.
It is felt that if some changes are made, there will be additional objections and the board will be faced with conflicting interests until the start of classes in fall.
James Kluge, who will be delegate to the Jan. 22 through 24 State School Board Convention at Milwaukee, was instructed to vote against a change in by-laws that would alter the method of nominating directors.
Under the new plan, the president would appoint three members to a nine-member nominating committee, giving him a major voice in the ultimate selection of directors.
The resignation of Mrs. Sue Wydevan as kindergarten teacher at Janssen School, effective Jan. 20, was accepted and Mrs. Mary Ann Steinberg, Appleton, was hired as a replacement. She will teach half days.

Three Combined Locks Officials Circulating Papers for Re-election

COMBINED LOCKS — Three of four incumbents to be elected at the April 1 election have taken out nomination papers, according to Mrs. Irene Roemer, village clerk.
Seeking re-election will be Daniel Williams, village president, and Eugene Schulz and Donald Ourada, trustees. John Miron, assessor, has still not taken out papers. Candidates interested in office have until Jan. 28 to file nomination papers with the clerk.

Village Officer Will Go to Madison Session

COMBINED LOCKS — Officer Thomas Jansen of the village police department has been authorized to attend the attorney general's conference on law enforcement at Madison Jan. 22 through 24. ren, D-Green Bay, public welfare and Gervase Hephner, D-Chilton, taxation.

State Given $382,150 to Combat Crime

MADISON (AP) — Wisconsin has been awarded a federal grant of $382,150 to help combat crime, Gov. Warren P. Knowles announced Wednesday.
The grant, requested by Knowles in December, was the first made under the law enforcement assistance program.
"These funds will provide Wisconsin with the means to lay the foundation for improved law enforcement in the state," Knowles said.
He added that emphasis will be given to improvement of police, prosecution, courts, corrections and other fields of law enforcement.

Marion District Schools Set End Of First Semester

MARION — The Marion public school system has set Friday, Jan. 24, as the end of the first semester.
There will be no classes in any district school on Monday, Jan. 27, which will be an inservice day for teachers. They will meet in the high school to discuss and coordinate plans for the second semester.
Parent-teacher conference days will be Jan. 30 to 31, in the elementary grades. Classes will be conducted those days for kindergarten and high school.
Grade school parents have received letters specifying times for them to meet their children's teachers. Report cards will be given to parents at these conferences.
The special teachers of physical education, art, music, and reading will be present in their rooms and available for conferences during this time.

Backs School Bonding

Kaukauna Mayor Scores Tarr Unit's Inattention to Fixed Income Groups

KAUKAUNA — Mayor Gilbert Anderson said Wednesday that he is disappointed over the Tarr Task Force's failure to lighten the burden of taxpayers on fixed incomes.
The mayor predicted before the Rotary Club that the task force recommendations to the Legislature would hurt, rather than help Kaukauna city government. But, he added, the school district could receive more aids.
The mayor also indicated his support for the construction of a new elementary school by bonding, an issue which will face the school district's voters in the spring election.
"I was hopeful that a recommendation would be made to strengthen the Homestead Act so that total forgiveness of any tax increases might be made to those people with fixed incomes under the amount necessary for a decent living," he said.
On school aid recommendations, Anderson commented, "We have long felt that the flat aid and equalized aid formula which has been in effect for a number of years has been an unfair formula and I hope that the Legislature will see fit to pass this portion of the Tarr committee report," he stated.
Fears Austerity
"I would presume that, should this trend of rising taxes continue, we as a city would have to enact an austerity program, cutting out some of the programs and services we now render our people."
In analysing the 1969 local tax increase of $12 per $1,000, process of building. The state's rise in our equalized valuation of almost $6,000,000 occasioned a rise in our county and state taxes," said Anderson.

City Costs Hold
Pointing to the area of the budget over which the city has complete control, Anderson pointed out 20 cents of each dollar is for city purposes, "an area in which we have been able to hold our own quite well."
Reviewing accomplishments in 1968, Mayor Anderson pointed to the two miles of street paving, $10,000 appropriation for resurfacing of worn out streets, new sewer projects, sewer replacement work, remodeling of the sewage disposal plant, development of the public housing project and progress of the 701 plan for comprehensive city planning.

He told of the interconnection project between the Kaukauna and Menasha electric utilities and the progress made toward the link-up during the past year.
Supports New School
He listed a city-utility garage, new library, traffic pattern changes, extension of Island Street and improvements to the retaining wall on the Fox River near the high school as projects which were forestalled due to lack of funds.
"The school building program contemplated for this year will again face a referendum. The mandate which our council and fiscal control board had from the people of Kaukauna in last spring's election was to proceed with the building of a new elementary school. To delay it at this time would be quite costly as costs of building and costs of financing become increasingly more expensive," said the mayor.
But he reminded the audience, the matter was up to the people and the referendum would decide the future of the school.

Departing Official Is Expert on Oil Leases

Potential Conflict-of-Interest Looms
With Budget Official's Shift to Wall Street

BY ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK
WASHINGTON — While Democratic Senators are harassing Nixon appointees about their stock portfolios, a potential conflict-of-interest of major proportions has developed in the nerve center of the federal government: the Bureau of the Budget.

The conflict, wholly potential and apparently involving no violation of law, concerns the activities of Assistant Budget Director Peter Lewis in the closing months of the Johnson administration. Although his responsibilities run the entire gamut of government domestic operations, Lewis has spent an unprecedented amount of time dealing with government oil leases on the outer continental shelf.

This bothers officials inside the bureaucracy because Lewis after Jan. 20 will become a partner in Lazard Freres, a top Wall Street investment banking firm intimately connected to the oil industry and, indirectly, with leasing off-shore oil. Without imputing any wrongdoing to Lewis, it is obvious that detailed information he has gained the

Disqualified Himself
Lazard Freres has done well, mining three high officials: Lewis, Under Secretary of the Treasury Frederick DeMing, and Secretary of Commerce C. R. Smith. Indeed, Smith has been in a conflict-of-interest somewhat more than potential. He was stalling action on an oil-opposed free trade zone for Machiasport, Maine, to import foreign oil. After criticism from Sen. William Proxmire of Wisconsin, he disqualified himself.

While Congress is meticulous in requiring new appointees to divest themselves of past business connections, often at heavy financial loss, officials leaving government are mostly ignored. Fuzzy federal statutes are ineffective in restricting attempts to turn government experience to private gain.

The case of Peter Lewis is instructive. Leaving Lazard Freres in 1966, he joined the new Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) as Deputy Assistant Secretary for Metropolitan Development and gained a reputation as a bright, young innovator in a job totally unrelated to oil. HUD officials were sorry to see Lewis leave in early 1968 to become Assistant Budget Director.

Makes Field Trip
Although all federal operations were in his province, Lewis began devoting much time to offshore oil leasing. For instance, he amazed and puzzled Interior Department officials last summer by making a personal trip to the department's field installation at New Orleans, which is responsible for oil leases on the outer continental shelf.

This interest reached a climax in recent weeks. A New York oil consultant was brought into the Interior Department at Lewis's behest, officials there told us, to give them his views about oil leasing.

Far more significant was Lewis's private summons to Interior Department officials who run the oil leasing program. Arriving at the Budget Bureau office next door to the White House with no little anxiety over what was in store for them at this holy of holies, the lower-echelon officials were grilled by Lewis on details of oil leasing.

Lewis's actions angered officials in the Interior Department and elsewhere in the bureaucracy who are striving for a little parity between Uncle Sam and the big oil producers.

The oil giants, armed with unlimited research funds to obtain drilling information, for years have had a distinct advantage over the government in bidding for the multi-million dollar lease. Only in recent years have new procedures in the Interior Department and Budget Bureau supplied federal officials with enough information to evaluate bids intelligently.

These officials see in Peter Lewis the threat of much of that work going down the drain. Even if his activities in recent months were in fact solely in behalf of the public interest, he returns to Wall Street with a wealth of inside information unobtainable elsewhere.

Assuming Lewis knew he was returning to Lazard Freres, he should have disqualified himself from any work at the Budget Bureau concerning offshore oil

Officers Picked by Group Pressing for Parochial Aids

A local chapter of Citizens for Educational Freedom (CEF), a group attempting to get financial aid for children in parochial schools, recently organized in the Fox Cities, has elected two officers.

Ralph DeDecker, Appleton, was chosen president and Joseph Jankowski, Menasha, vice president. The remaining officers will be selected at the next meeting, for which no date has been set.

At present, the membership in the local chapter consists mainly of Catholics because of the dominance of Catholic schools in the area. However, membership to CEF is open to anyone interested in its goals. Recently the executive committee of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod adopted a resolution endorsing the CEF and urging its members to join.

Green Bay Rally
A tuition reimbursement bill will be introduced shortly into the state Legislature which will aid parents of children attending private schools. The bill's contents will be available later this month.

A rally to discuss this bill and other issues has been scheduled at 8 p.m. Jan. 20 at the Brown County Arena, Green Bay.

In a news release the local chapter contended that the reimbursement is not in conflict with the Constitution as long as the state aids are used for teaching of secular subjects only.

According to DeDecker, the CEF bill will cost about $13 million to the taxpayers, which is much less than it would cost if the parochial schools are closed.

He pointed out that there was a drop of 33,000 parochial pupils this school year in the state, which cost the taxpayers an extra $23 million. A $732 state-established per student cost was used.

He also stated that there still are 231,000 pupils in parochial schools, which multiplied by the per pupil cost, would come to $169 million to educate.

These figures do not include building costs.

Lindsay's Greatest Success Is Survival But He May Run Again
NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor John V. Lindsay made an appearance on the NBC Tonight Show Tuesday and with a smile described his greatest accomplishment in office as "survival."

Asked if he would seek reelection, Lindsay replied, "I walk around the streets of Manhattan and take a sample from the people. You'd be surprised what a voice of opinion I get, but I may run anyway."

The State of the Nation, According to LBJ

There perhaps is no more awkward constitutional provision than the one which requires the President to make a State of the Union report only a few days before he is to turn over the office to the new chief executive representing another political party. But it was not in the nature of President Johnson to follow the course of other presidents in such circumstances by sending merely a written message to the Congress.

One reason, Mr. Johnson confessed, was sentiment. He wanted to say farewell to the halls where he had worked most of his adult life. And Mr. Johnson's brief summary of faith in the democratic process as it takes place in the Congress was most moving.

But the President seemed to have two other things on his mind for this farewell address, if that is what history will call it. First, he put down the subjects for which he hopes his administration will be remembered. And secondly, the President recognized the unique division of power which will mark the start of the Nixon Administration by setting forth recommendations more detailed than normally would be spoken under these transitional circumstances.

In contrast to past messages to Congress, Mr. Johnson hardly mentioned Vietnam, except to state that progress had been made at home despite the war. He may have been saying that history should judge him for such advancements as civil rights, expansion in education, and improvements in medical care for the aged. In fact, he reminded the nation that history cannot be divided into chunks and that Vietnam stretches back to before 1963.

LSD Hangover May Last Forever

A "bad trip" on LSD recently hospitalized a 17-year-old Appleton girl. Her experiences with mind-bending narcotics ended in an all-too-common tragedy.

Marijuana, LSD and "speed" amphetamines are the illicit drugs of a generation two-steps advanced from "bathub gin." Only the hangover from LSD sometimes lasts forever. And even mainliners on heroin know "speed kills." Hallucinogens of the "mod" generation offer idylls but deliver nightmares.

This is not a fictional "1984," however, but 1969 and reality must be faced.

The 'I' Road Into the Valley

The state Department of Transportation has thought it prudent to issue a statement explaining that the approval of the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads of the addition of a 105 mile link from Milwaukee through the Fox River Valley to the U. S. Interstate highway system is merely the beginning of a long succession of events that must precede the reality of the road.

Indeed, although the Bureau's approval was a happy and somewhat surprising development — remembering all that has gone before — it may be prudent to remind ourselves that there is yet no absolute assurance that the major new artery connecting two of the principal industrial and population centers of the state will be achieved.

The first requirement will be the release of federal funds for preliminary investigations relating to corridor planning. If the funds are granted, and we suppose

This, of course, is true, but it is how a president molds these continuing events that history must judge. Thus, the Johnson Administration's belated judgments on Vietnam remain in all their starkness.

Mr. Johnson put emphasis on a $2.4 billion surplus he says will exist at the end of this fiscal year and on a $3.4 billion surplus which will be possible in the budget for the next fiscal year. It is good news, subject to final accounting, but the nation is entitled to ask what all the fussing was about last year when Congress insisted that spending cuts be part of the surtax package and when the White House insisted it could not be done.

In listing the agenda for the coming year, Mr. Johnson correctly called for action on ratification of the nuclear nonproliferation treaty and on the search for further disarmament negotiations with the Soviet Union. These goals must remain above the divided government which will become fact Monday.

In being more specific than was expected in requests for expanded funding for model cities and public housing, in calling for enlargement of Social Security and Medicare, and in calling for continuation in some form of the anti-poverty program, Mr. Johnson provided a not too subtle hint of what President-elect Richard Nixon faces in the Congress. Mr. Nixon's ideas in these fields will be awaited. But Mr. Johnson was reminding the nation that his party controls the Congress.

President Johnson delivered a philosophical farewell. But he also gave a practical assessment of the political circumstances which mark this transition of power.

Narcotics are a problem in Appleton.

Appleton has a unique opportunity for action. Dr. Darrel Treffert, superintendent of Winnebago State Hospital, has proposed Appleton as a test city for a pilot program on narcotics education.

The pilot program can succeed only through the coordinated effort of citizens. This will not be "a one-shot deal," according to Dr. Treffert. It will cost participants time and energy. Yet, as citizens, can we afford not to give our utmost support to save youths from "the bad trip" or the need to seek "the trip?"

they will be, it is not difficult to imagine that the surveys and the studies and the hearings involved in a project of such magnitude will be enormously time-consuming.

Thus the state highways division cautions us that the final alignment of the route probably won't be made public until about a year hence, and that only then will the work on the final design begin. Under the most favorable circumstances, construction would probably begin on some sections in 1972, but that will again depend on the availability of funds. The first apportionment of funds cannot come until Congress acts to augment the Interstate highway appropriations, probably in the fall of 1970. So, let us be patient. This is a huge undertaking, and it may not be completed, even without unexpected obstacles, for nearly a decade.

Party Visits Indian Mission

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for Jan. 30, 1869.

On Saturday last a party of ladies and gentlemen visited the Episcopal Mission among the Oneida Indians, under the Rev. Mr. Goodenough, and participated in the services of the day.

The attendance of the Indians was large, and they were neatly dressed, and were attentive and devotional. The singing and the chanting was delightful, accompanied by some excellent music on the organ played by an expert Indian musician.

The parishioners love their pastor, who is a plain, unpretending man, laboring assiduously in his comparatively isolated vineyard. The success which is apparent in his parish must be a source of gratification to the Rev. Mr. Goodenough and his amiable family. A visit there will amply repay anyone.

While there we witnessed a marriage between a young Indian and squaw — both as bashful as possible — the latter about as badly frightened as the former.

After a pleasant visit, we all returned home highly satisfied and anticipating a renewal of the trip some future time.

25 YEARS AGO

Thursday, Jan. 13, 1944.

That day President Franklin D. Roosevelt asked for $10 billion in new taxes in his $100 Billion budget that included $90 billion for war.

It's About Time Churches Start Helping Support Us

Editor, The Post-Crescent:

We have all heard the latest suggestion of the Tarr Task Force regarding putting additional tax on automobiles for so far have been non-taxable, such as the churches in our fair cities. If we the people can be asked to support our churches, how about our churches starting to help supported University of Wisconsin Extension Center.

Welcome Wagon Newcomers were to tour Morgan School and hear a talk by Principal Roland Nock. Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Richard Waldhaus, chairman, Mrs. Allen Lemieux, Mrs. W. P. Hansmann, Mrs. Willard Anderson, Mrs. John Timmerman, Mrs. Everett Berkholder, Mrs. Ralph Hill and Mrs. Vincent Slater.

Poppy royalty elected by members of the American Legion Junior Auxiliary were Penny Berken, poppy princess, and court attendants Susan Metko and Beck Kriehn. The girls were to be introduced at the third annual Ninth District Junior Spring conference at Shiocton in April.

Also, in regard to the parochial school system — if they would like federal aid to continue their schools they should be willing to help continue the government. I think it narrows down to all of us working together for the betterment of our country and it should be share and share alike. And this should also go for jobs, racial problems, taxes, the works. We have to back our government because we are the government.

Kraft Writes

Nixon Having Trouble Recruiting Able Men for His Fresh Approach

BY JOSEPH KRAFT

WASHINGTON — Talk about a smooth transition between Administrations is running thick enough to sound like an ad for chocolate pudding. But in fact some lumps are showing up.

The incoming Administration is plainly having difficulty in recruiting able men for government. In area after area where changed policies have been promised, the Nixon team is either showing a blank or having to rely on the architects of the bad, old policies.

A striking case in point concerns Western Europe. Mr. Nixon and his special assistant for national security affairs, Henry Kissinger, have been profuse in their criticism of the European policies followed by the Johnson and Kennedy administrations. They have promised a wider policy vision that would promote better relations with — all at once — Britain, West Germany, and the France of General de Gaulle.

A good place to get started might have been the meeting in Brussels this week of NATO defense ministers. The ministers will approve force goals for the alliance countries during the period 1969-1973. And the outgoing Administration would have been delighted to consult extensively on the matter with the new boys.

NO NEW BOYS

Only there were no new boys. The two key posts for West European policy are for the time being left in the hands of the principal architects of existing policy. Though he has long planned to retire, Assistant Secretary of State for European Affairs John Leddy has been asked to stay in that post for another six weeks. And he will be keeping with him his deputy, George Springsteen.

Abundant offstage noises, moreover, suggest that there have been struggles over two other posts critical for West European policy. Thus there has apparently been a fight between serious economists and Wall Street money jugglers over the post of Under Secretary of the Treasury for Monetary Affairs. There has apparently also been a fight between hard-liners and moderates over the post of Assistant Secretary of Defense for Internal Security Affairs.

A far more critical area of spectacularly slow going turns around what might be called the internal state department. That comprises the groups of men and offices who work against the efforts of black militants and student radicals, to keep the lid on in this country.

During the Johnson Administration that task was primarily handled by Attorney General Ramsey Clark and a large corps of assistants in the Justice Department. These men kept open lines of communication with the students and the blacks, and if nothing else, they minimized the trouble that came at the time of the Pentagon march and the riots following the shooting of Martin Luther King.

Kraft

General Ramsey Clark and a large corps of assistants in the Justice Department. These men kept open lines of communication with the students and the blacks, and if nothing else, they minimized the trouble that came at the time of the Pentagon march and the riots following the shooting of Martin Luther King.

OFF TO SLOW START
It has pleased Mr. Nixon to criticize Attorney General Clark more sharply than any other outgoing official. But who does the new Administration have that can keep open the lines of communication?

tion have that can keep open the lines of communication?

Daniel P. Moynihan, the new White House coordinator of urban affairs, is primarily an expert on organization of government programs; he and his staff do not have easy access to the black and student communities. Neither does anybody in the Cabinet — least of all John Mitchell, the former municipal bond lawyer who is to be Attorney General. The fact is that the Nixon administration has not yet found anybody apt to maintain even minimal rapport with the discontented in this country.

The reason the new Administration is having these recruitment difficulties is not obscure. The major pool of Republican talent in the country comes — not from academic and political life as with the Democrats, but from business and the more highly paid professions. Able men in these fields are not eager to leave their work for government posts below the level of Cabinet officer. And, of course, their usual work is outside the range of dealing with students and blacks.

Given this shortage of available talent, it is probably just as well that Mr. Nixon takes his time about staffing. But the price of moving deliberately is that his Administration will be off to a slow start

Pro Football on TV May be Ominous Sign

Editor, The Post-Crescent:

Congratulations to the AFL and NFL for their whale of a contribution to our declining civilization.

Football again succeeded in monopolizing a season of choice television time every weekend and every holiday, bringing its glory and grue-some into homes by not one but two barking announcers. This is a far cry of practicing moderation in all things. Although many claim they need football games as an escape — I need to escape from football games to retain my sound mind. Arnold Toynbee, British Historian, said "Of 21 notable civilizations, 19 perished not from conquest from without but from decay from within."

The whole idea of getting together with friends, relatives, and families for a well planned and prepared dinner, and in hopeful anticipation of soul searching conversation, loses its value when one discovers it is selfishly planned around a football game. It gives one reason enough to neither accept or extend invitations during that season. The following article by Edward Gibbon will substantiate my deep concern.

One of the most widely read books of all time is "The Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire." It sets forth five basic reasons why that great civilization withered and died. These were:

1. The undermining of the dignity and sanctity of the home, which is the basis for human society.

2. Higher and higher taxes; the spending of public money for free bread and circuses for the populace.

3. The mad craze for pleasures; sports becoming every year more exciting, more brutal, more immoral.

4. The building of great armaments when the real enemy was within — the decay of individual responsibility.

5. The decay of religion; faith fading into mere form, losing touch with life, losing power to guide the people.

The oft-heard warning that "history repeats itself" has an ominous meaning in the light of the above. The average age of the United States will be 200 years old. This cycle is not inevitable — It Depends On You.

Wisconsin Report

1,200 Die of Flu in State! That Would Be Tremendous Story

By JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — The callousness approaching indifference of public opinion on the bloody record of highway accidents in this state and elsewhere was perhaps best illustrated by the casual display of one of the important news stories of the Wisconsin year.

On the back pages of some of the newspapers or otherwise inconspicuously placed was the disclosure that Wisconsin has again achieved the melancholy distinction of breaking its own previous record of killing men, women and children on the highways.

The 1968 record total was put at 1,160 by the State Motor Vehicle Division, a rise from the 1,149 in the previous year. LITTLE IMPACT MADE the chronic and increasingly serious problems of the day. SAFETY WORK IGNORED

The safety education specialists continue to work faithfully and energetically in defiance of an apparently deaf public. Indeed, it is surprising that they manage to be as ingenious as they are after so many years of trying to reach the ears and the consciousness of an indifferent public and a largely indifferent legislature.

Most persons are simply bored with the topic evidently. It requires the shock of personal experience to awaken interest and resolution. I remember a prominent state senator who abruptly became involved in the highway safety cause after he lost a brother in an unnecessary highway accident.

Without any desire to deprive Gov. Knowles of any credit for his own stubborn campaign for new safety laws in the face of the powerful obstacles of indifference, inattention, and special interests in some cases, he was deeply moved a few years ago when a tearful mother called upon him to relate that she had lost a young son in an auto accident. She appealed to him for help in writing legislation to prevent such tragedies in other families.

CAN PREVENT CRASHES

Skeptics say there is no assurance that any of the measures offered to make highway travel safer offer positive hopes for the reduction of the killing and maiming and huge property losses. Perhaps they are right to a degree. Some accidents are probably not preventable.

But many of them can be prevented by getting the drunks off the highways, by a stricter code of conduct for the ordinary driver who is now not always aware that driving is a privilege granted by the community, and not a natural right, by steeper penalties for the more serious violations of the vehicle code, by a collective resolution of the trial courts to be less lenient with offenders brought before them, and many other means.

Gov. Knowles intends to make a new stand on the issue in what will probably be his final term in public office. No man has worked more faithfully, even courageously, in this cause. What he now needs is the backing of a conscientious constituency. For, as the statehouse puts it, the legislator who cannot see the light always feels the heat.

Strictly Personal

Thoughts at Large Occupy Harris Today

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

The cynic who insists that everything in life is done for a selfish reason is closer to the truth than the sentimentalist who denies it; but the cynic is short-sighted in not realizing that the problematic aspect of life lies in knowing the true needs of the authentic self, and when we act in accord with these needs, our "selfishness" is also benevolent.

Harris

Long reflection can confuse the mind just as often as it can clarify it; I have seen bridge players ponder for minutes before playing the wrong card, who might have played the right one after a moment's thought.

The respectable world looks down its nose at those who are judged guilty of sins of commission — but a good case could be made out that our major woes are caused by the sins of omission perpetrated en masse by the very people who feel smug and virtuous for having broken no laws.
